Passages . . .
our transitions between stages, between times, between now and eternity.
Passages and portals opening the way to what we are
and what we might become.

Are the passages created by fate?
Can we stumble into Godhood?
Is it a synthesis of thought, action,
conditioning, preparation,
growth and achievement?

The whole man . . .
collective parts unified to bring forth the ultimate masterpiece.
Each man his own artist.
Taking nothing but a lifetime of chiseling, sculpting, painting, polishing . . .
himself—a work of art.

Passing through each year
our spirit is molded by the colors of the season,
the fullness of the trees,
the majesty of the morning dawn and the evening sun
as it worships the sky.

City symphonies sound their melodies against the peaceful, lilting strains of nature's changing hue.

We pass from level to level of physical perfection,
coming closer to uniting mind and body, intellect and strength.
Capturing a "third wind" not definable in speech,
but in action.
Competing only with what nature has given us,
striving to surpass earlier expecrations.

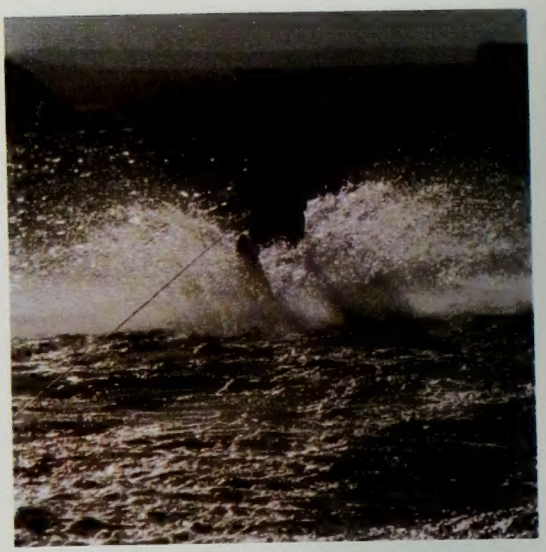

Always wondering,
is there life after youth?

Interaction . . . passing in and out of relationships, friendships, roles of leadership, times of hardship . . . while master of your own ship.

Vessels that all travel the same sea of life, trying hard to find a land of social cohesiveness.

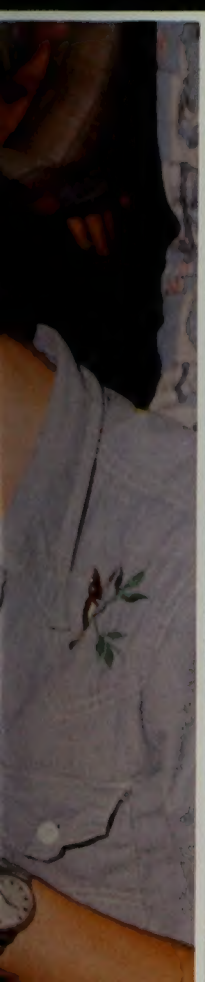

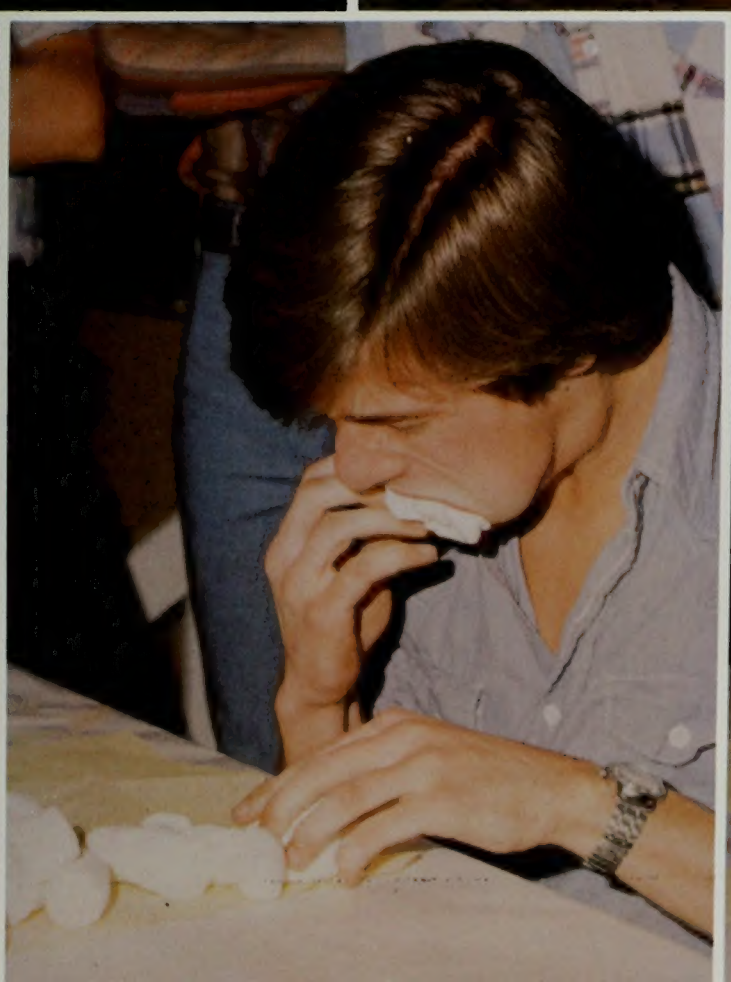

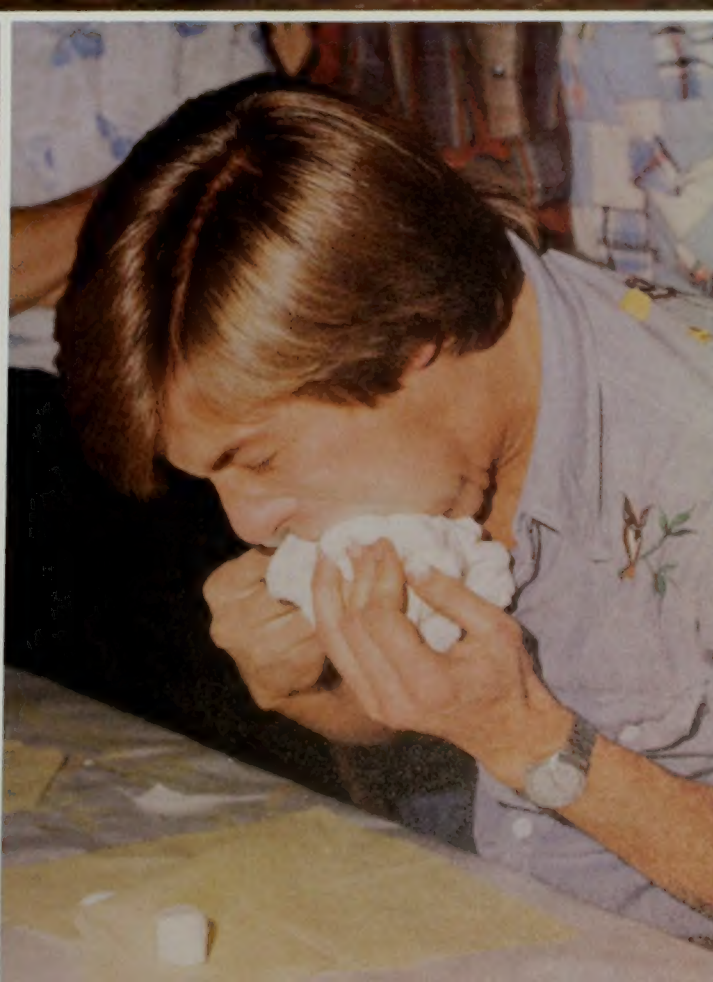

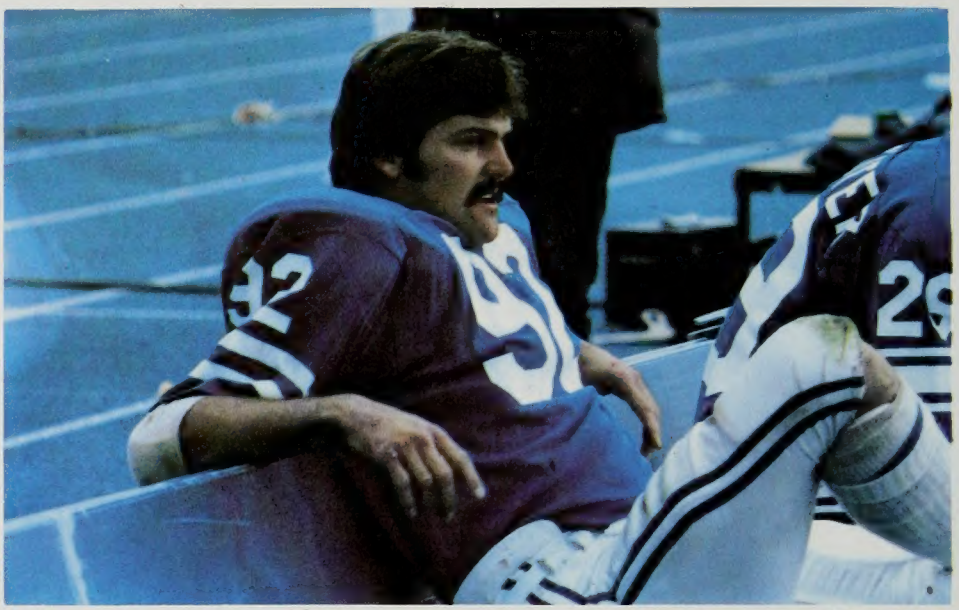

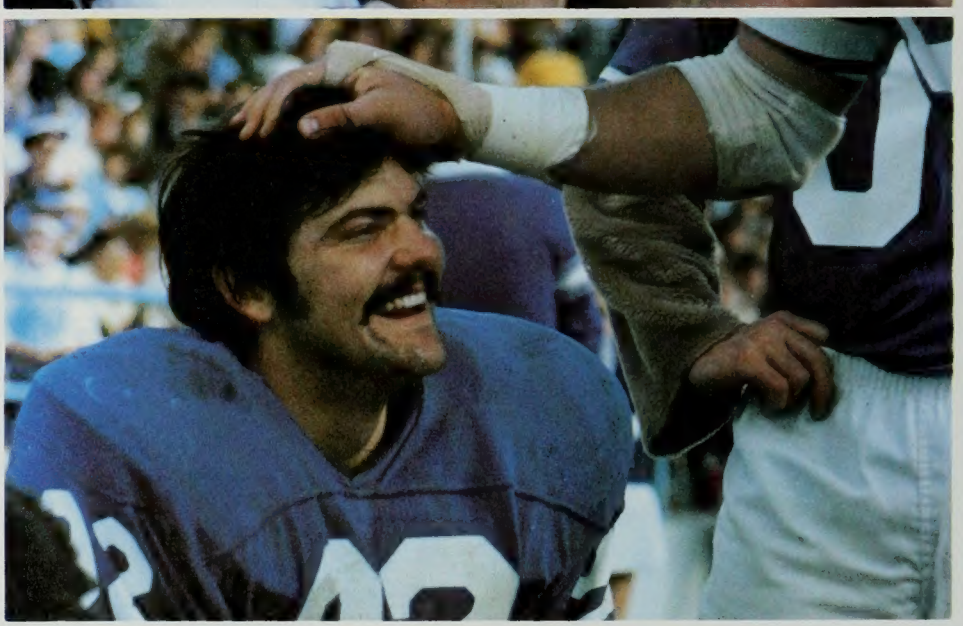

Joy, sorrow, excitement, disgust, anguish, love, confusion, frustration, contentment.
A fusion of emotion, constantly changing from year to day to hour to moment.
Unpredictable as the continuing Utah weather forecast.

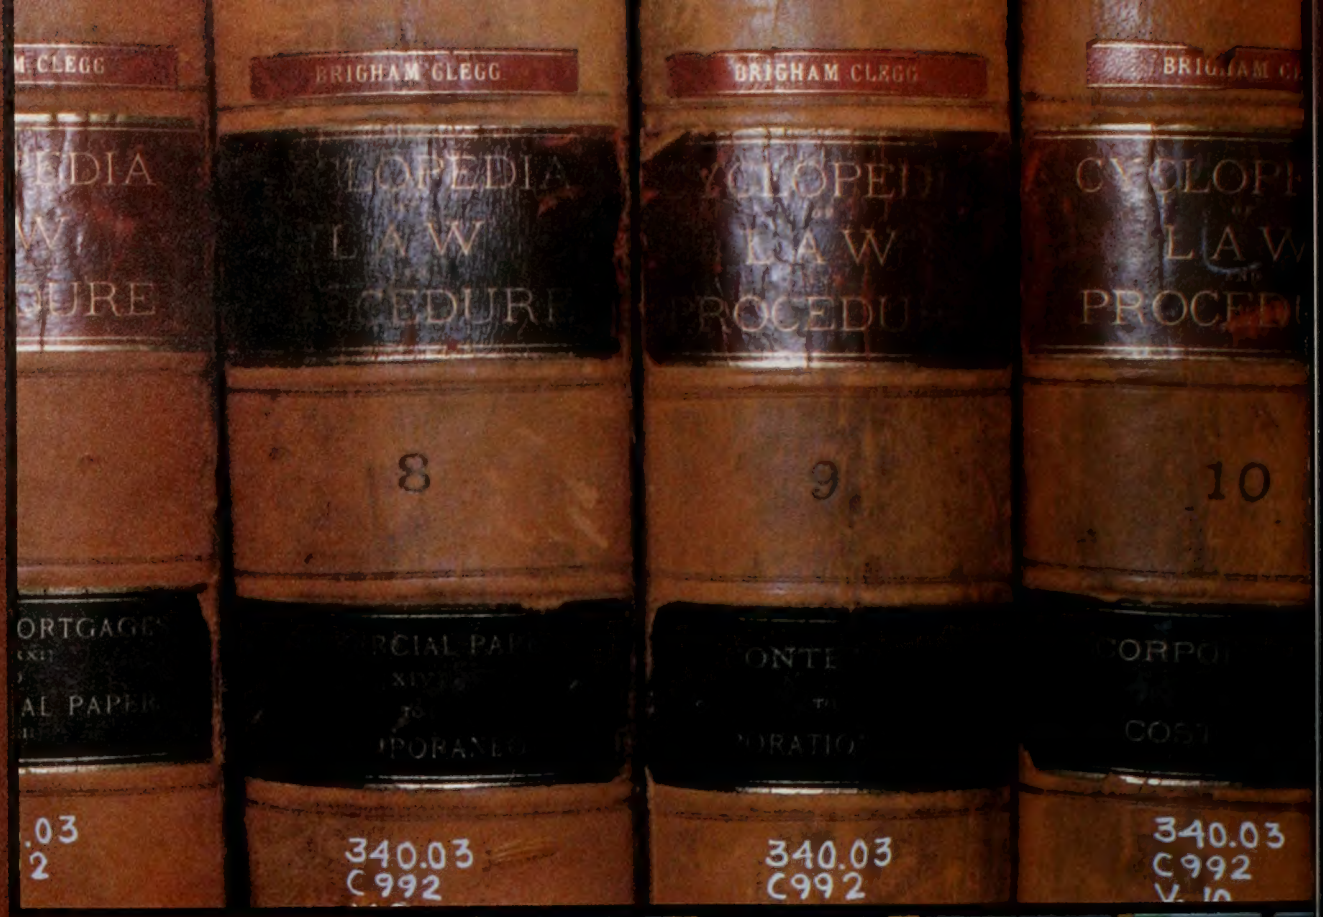

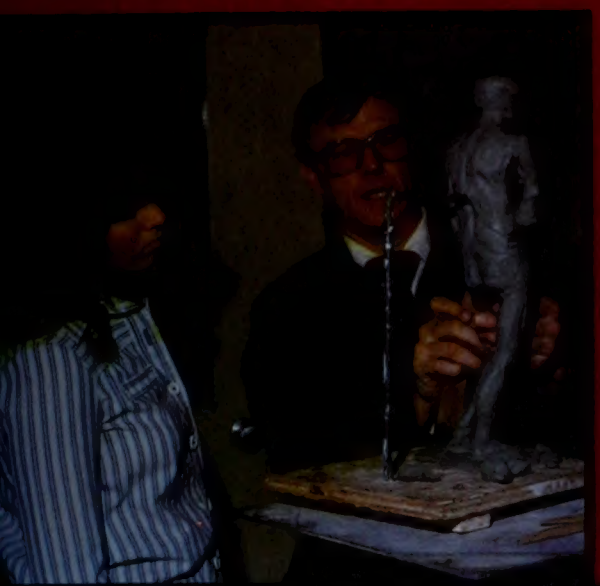

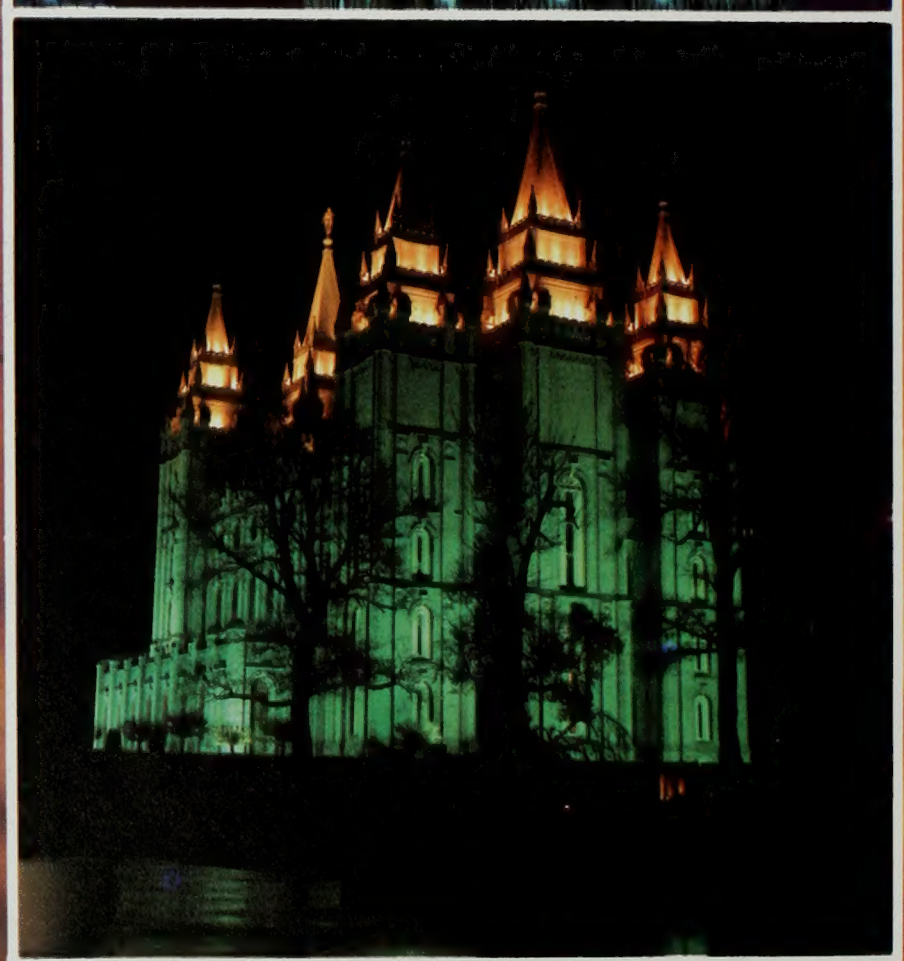

The limits of knowledge are pushed farther outward as each concept is grasped and question answered.
Our minds long for infinite intellectual understanding as we attempt to stretch for the mysteries and keys of life.
No goal is unattainable,
no mountain too high,
no sea too wide,
no desert too dry.

Only One Fact: We must try.

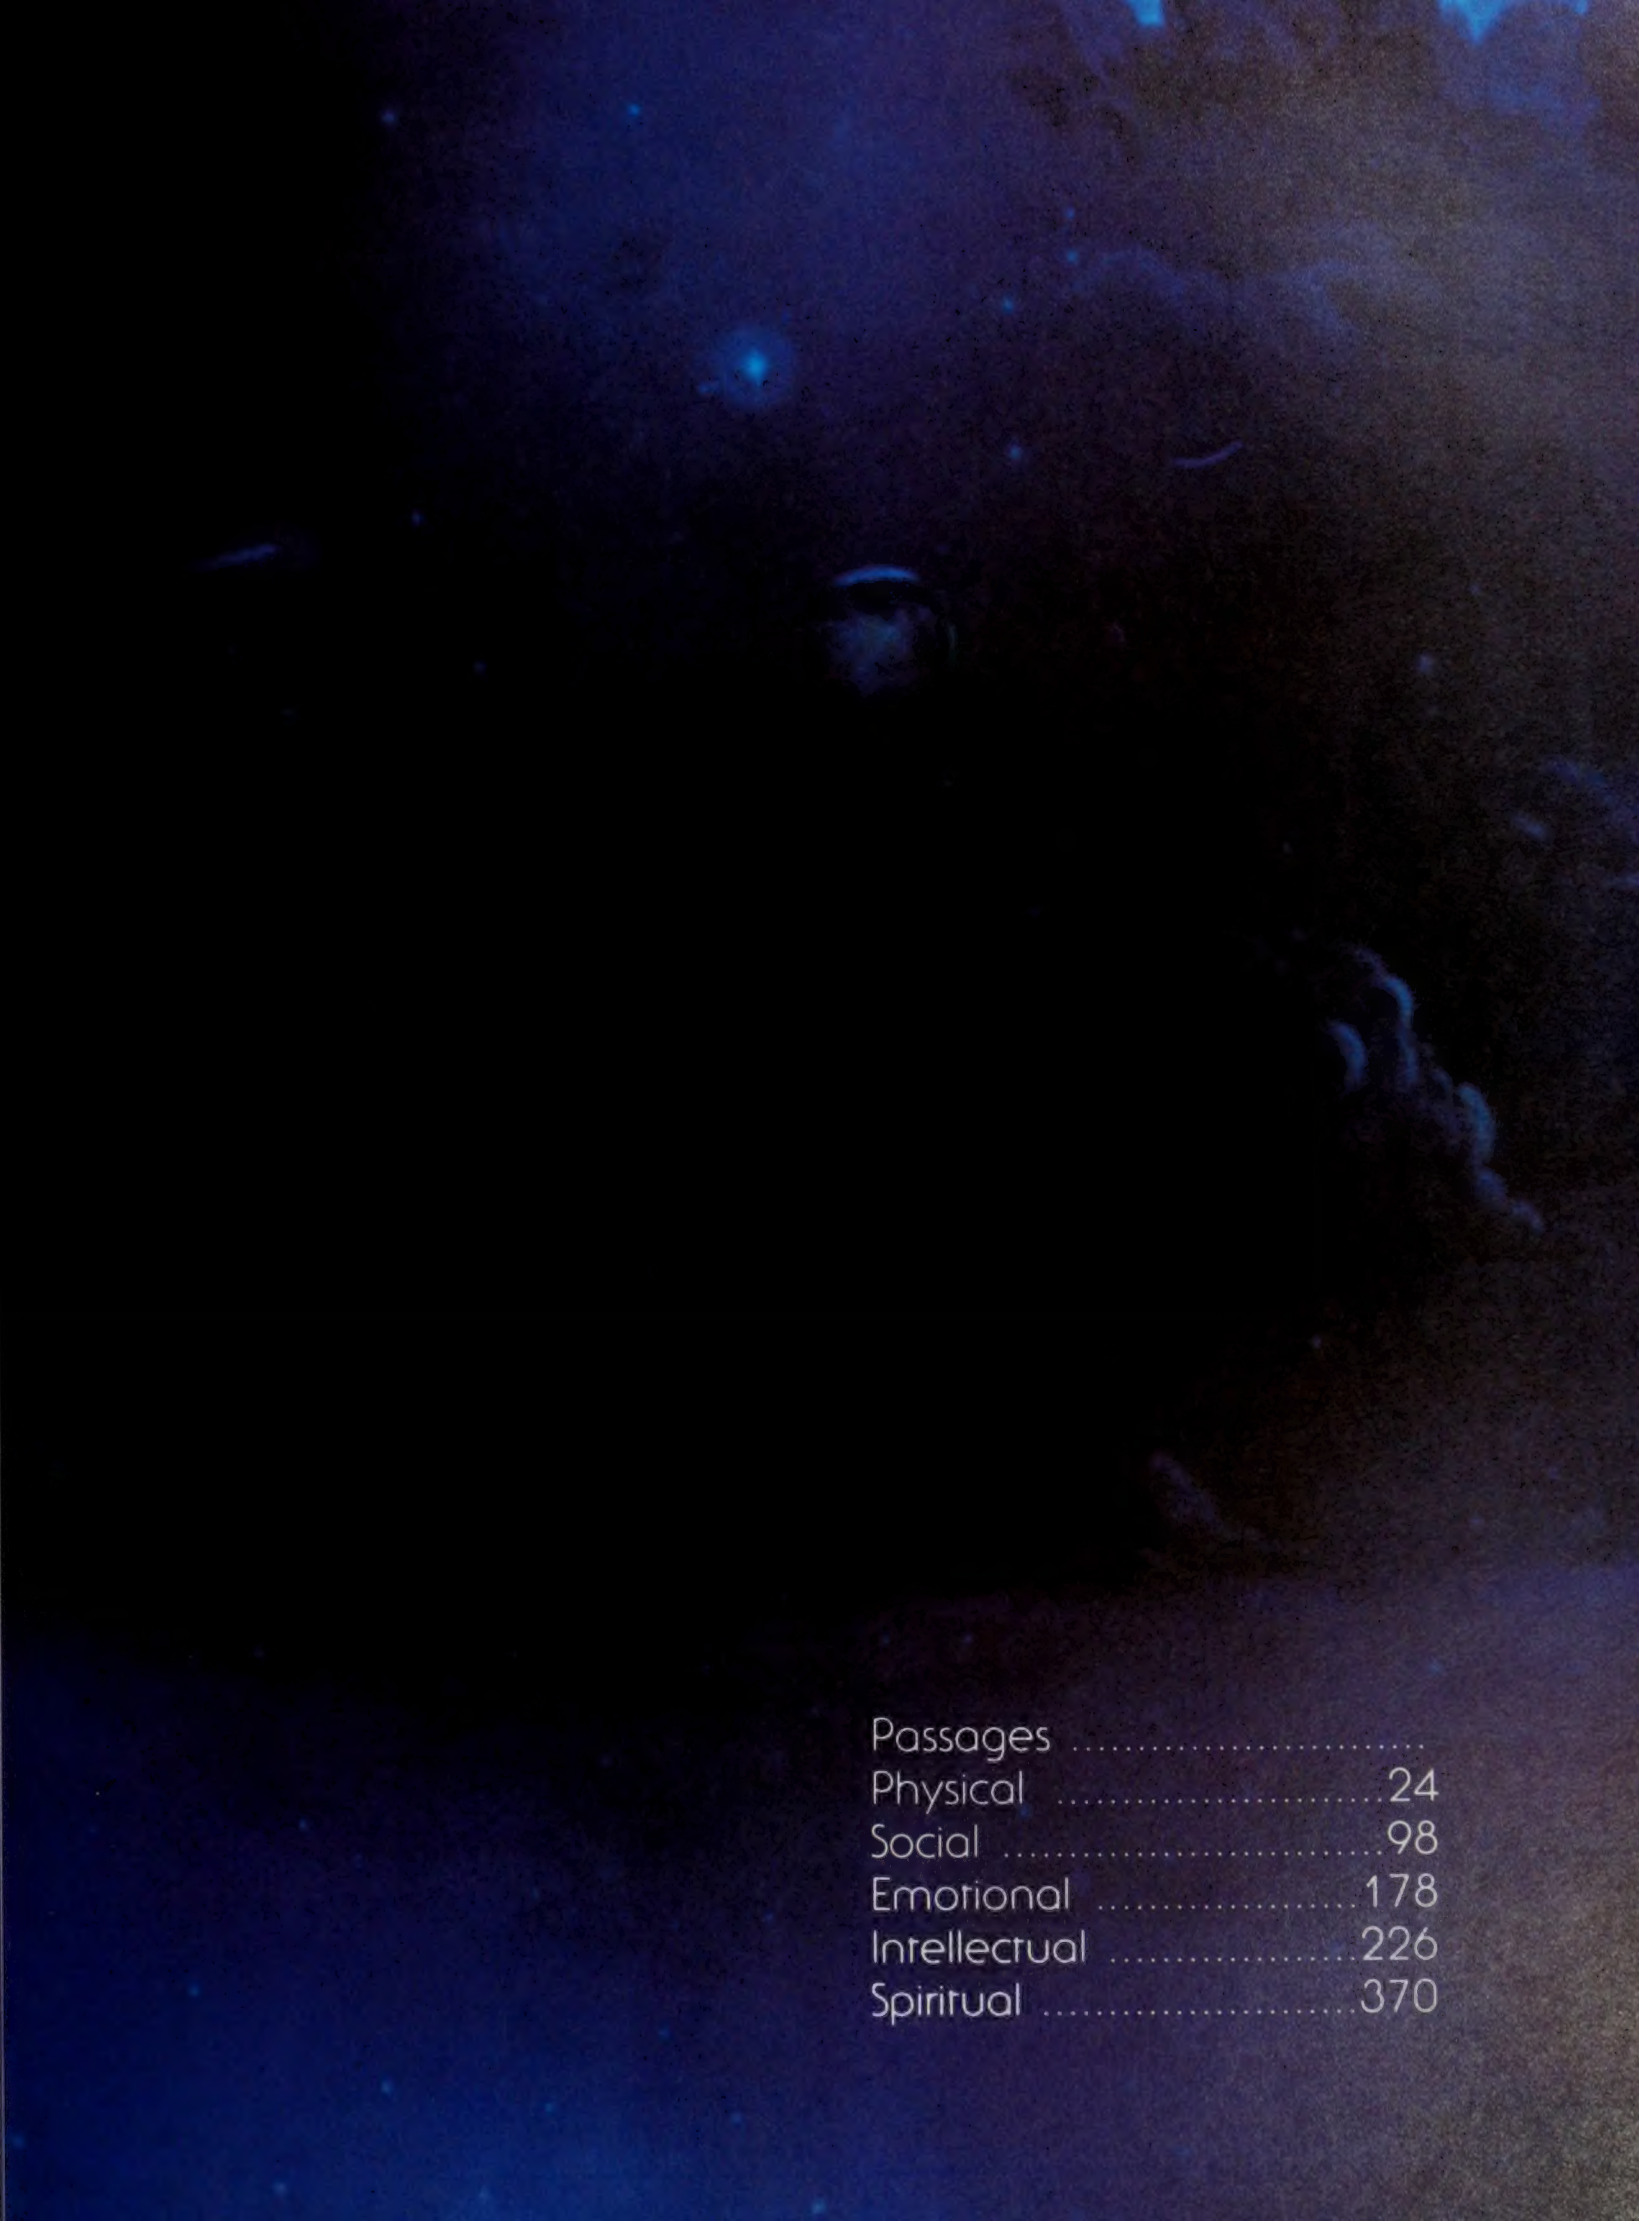

Defining our boundaries
only by the learning gained in living and the vision and promise embodied in life that lies beyond

Cougars Take WAC Co-championship!

"Right before the game is the very worst part. You're always wondering if you're OK and how you feel. You're always so nervous. As soon as the first play is over it's OK, you're back in reality. It's really exciting to play on a winning team. When you lose it's a drag."

Ross Varner

"It's an honor for me to represent the school and BYU's name. I'm really grateful for the coaching staff and the fact that they help you so much, on and off the field. I hope to be involved with BYU Athletics someday. I already miss it."

Mekeli Ieremia

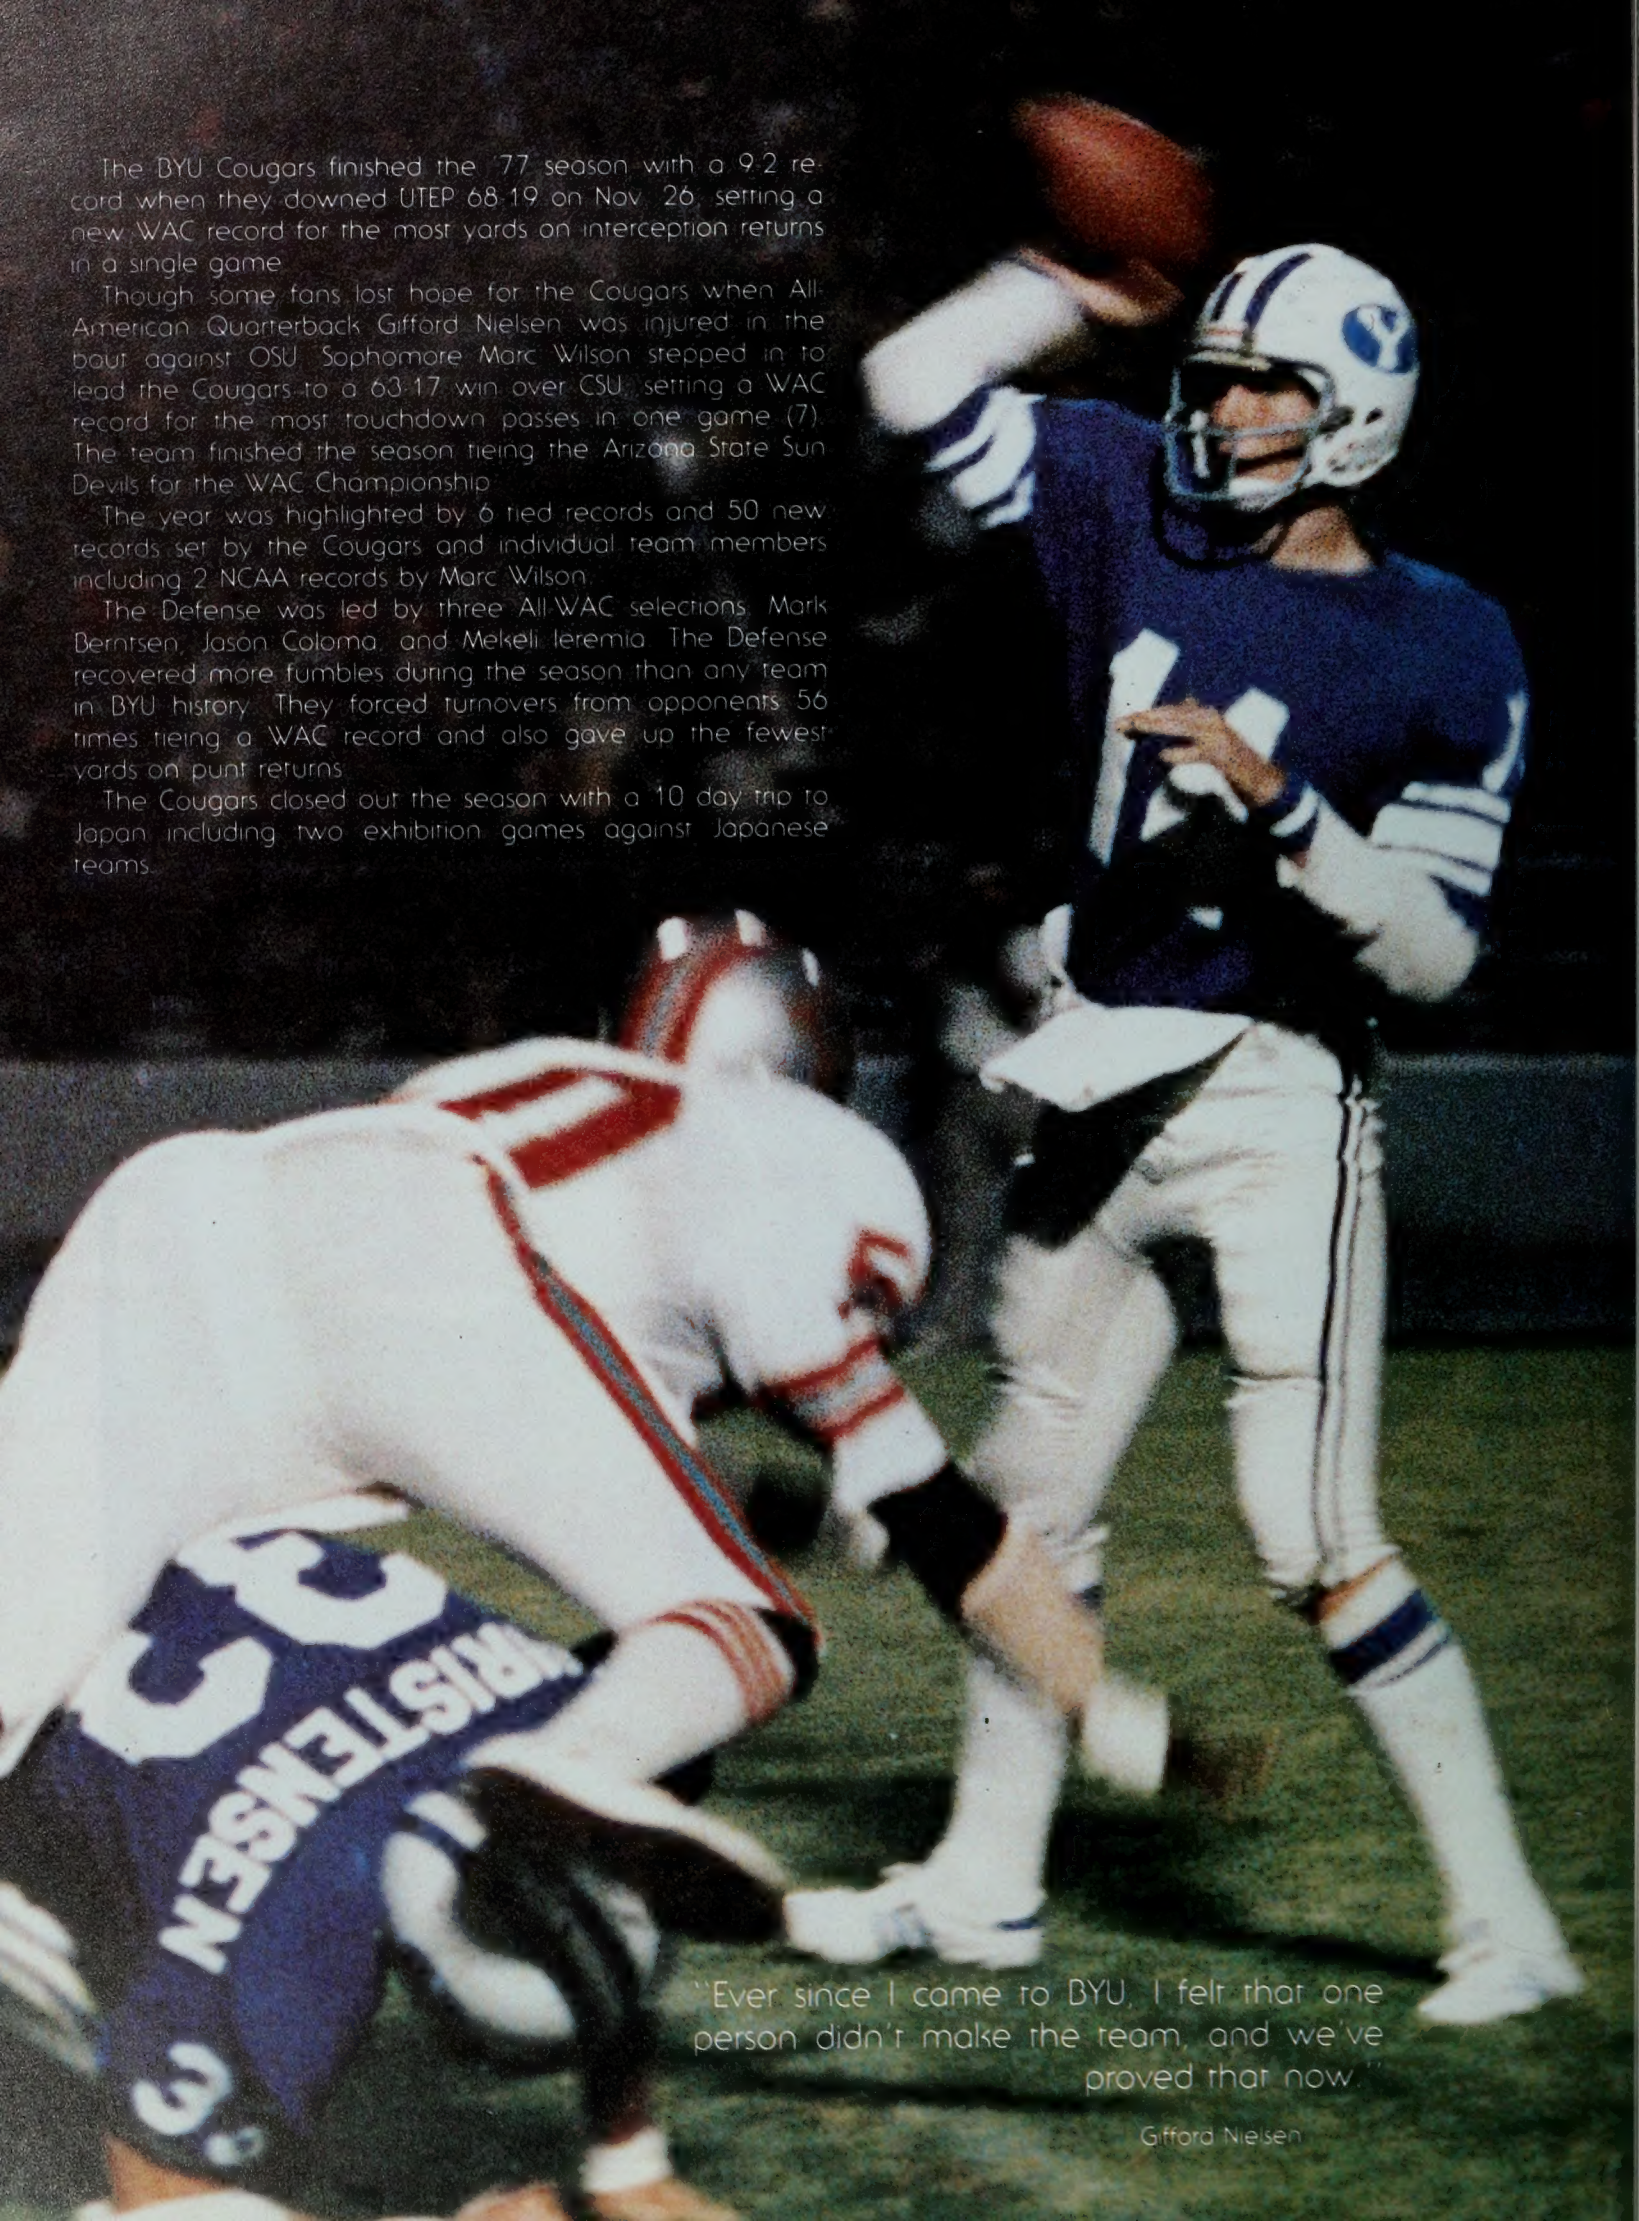

The BYU Cougars finished the '77 season with a 9-2 record when they downed UTEP 68-19 on Nov. 26, setting a new WAC record for the most yards on interception returns in a single game.

Though some fans lost hope for the Cougars when All-American Quarterback Gifford Nielsen was injured in the bout against OSU, Sophomore Marc Wilson stepped in to lead the Cougars to a 63-17 win over CSU, setting a WAC record for the most touchdown passes in one game (7). The team finished the season tieing the Arizona State Sun Devils for the WAC Championship.

The year was highlighted by 6 tied records and 50 new records set by the Cougars and individual team members including 2 NCAA records by Marc Wilson.

The Defense was led by three All-WAC selections, Mark Berntsen, Jason Coloma, and Mekeli Ieremia. The Defense recovered more fumbles during the season than any team in BYU history. They forced turnovers from opponents 56 times tieing a WAC record and also gave up the fewest yards on punt returns.

The Cougars closed out the season with a 10 day trip to Japan including two exhibition games against Japanese teams.

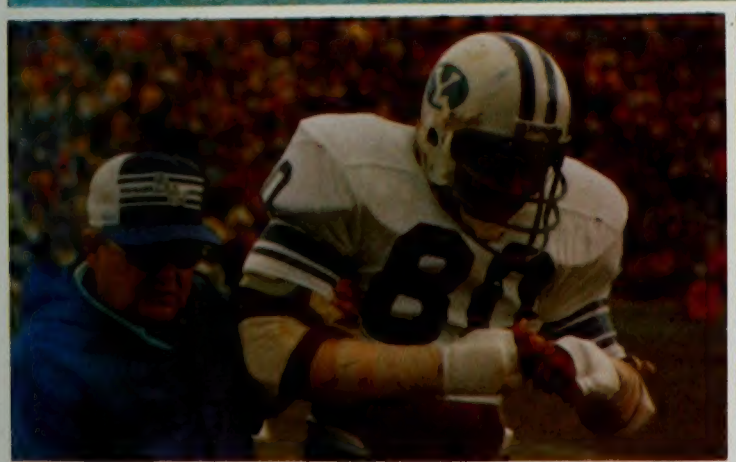

"Ever since I came to BYU, I felt that one person didn't make the team, and we've proved that now."

Gifford Nielsen

BYU played host to the Women's National Volleyball Championship in December. Three days of competition brought top regional teams from all over the United States. The unmatched USC team won over the strong University of Hawaii team in the exciting final game for first place in the tournament. After upsetting Pepperdine University, BYU went on to play UCLA for an impressive fourth place.

Another Great Engagement

One rainy afternoon, on October 29, 1977, at Brigham Young University's Homecoming football game, an airplane flies a startling message around the stadium: "Sally will you marry me?"

In the crowd below an answer is anxiously awaited. Soon the plane circles again only this time with a different flyer. Sally's reply is an affirmative "Ten Four dear" . . . And it's another great engagement at BYU.

"If President Carter gets the Panama Canal treaty signed, he will have far extended power over the other two branches of government."

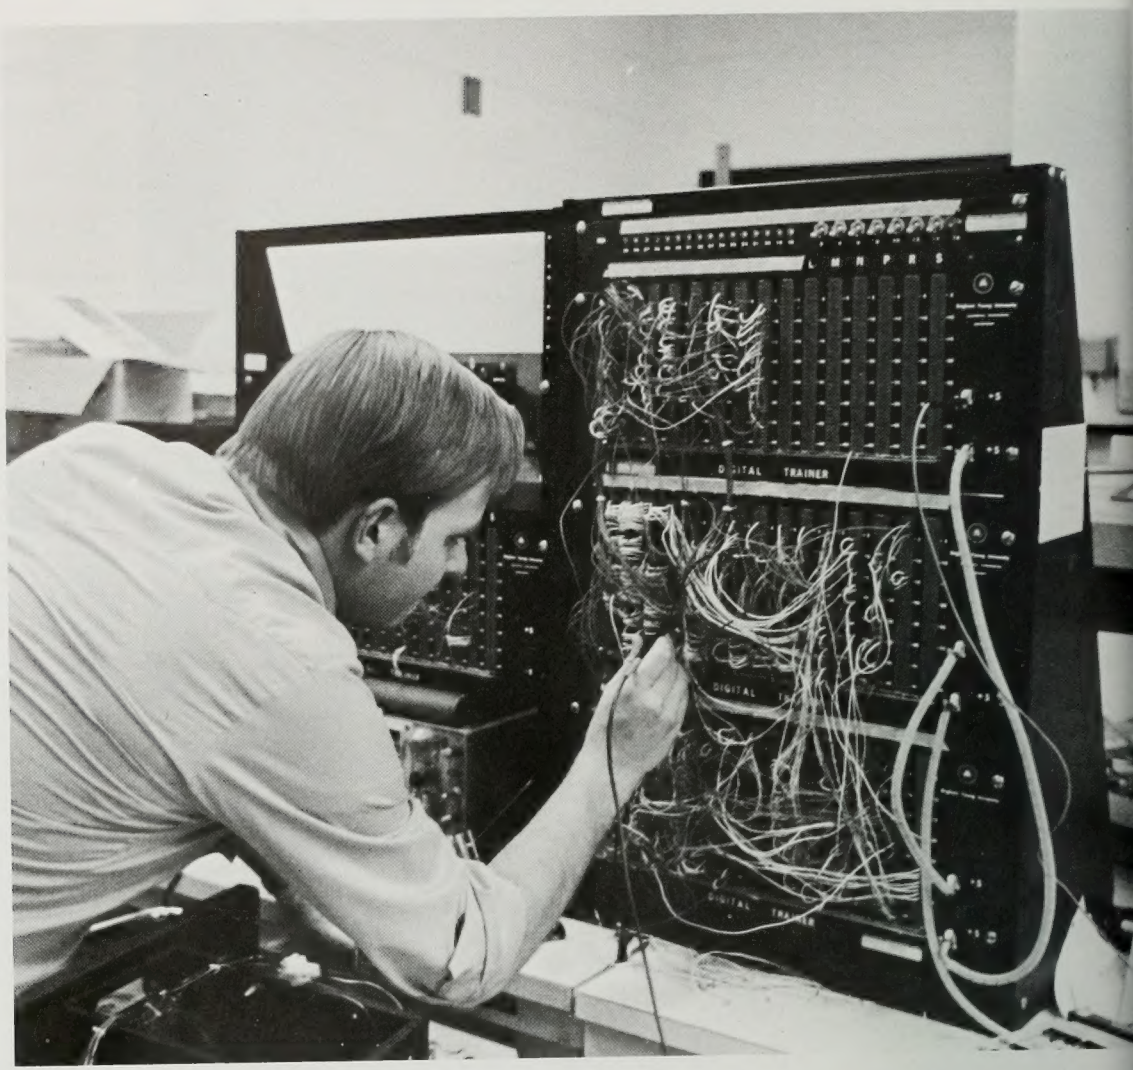

"I have no doubt that there is life after death."

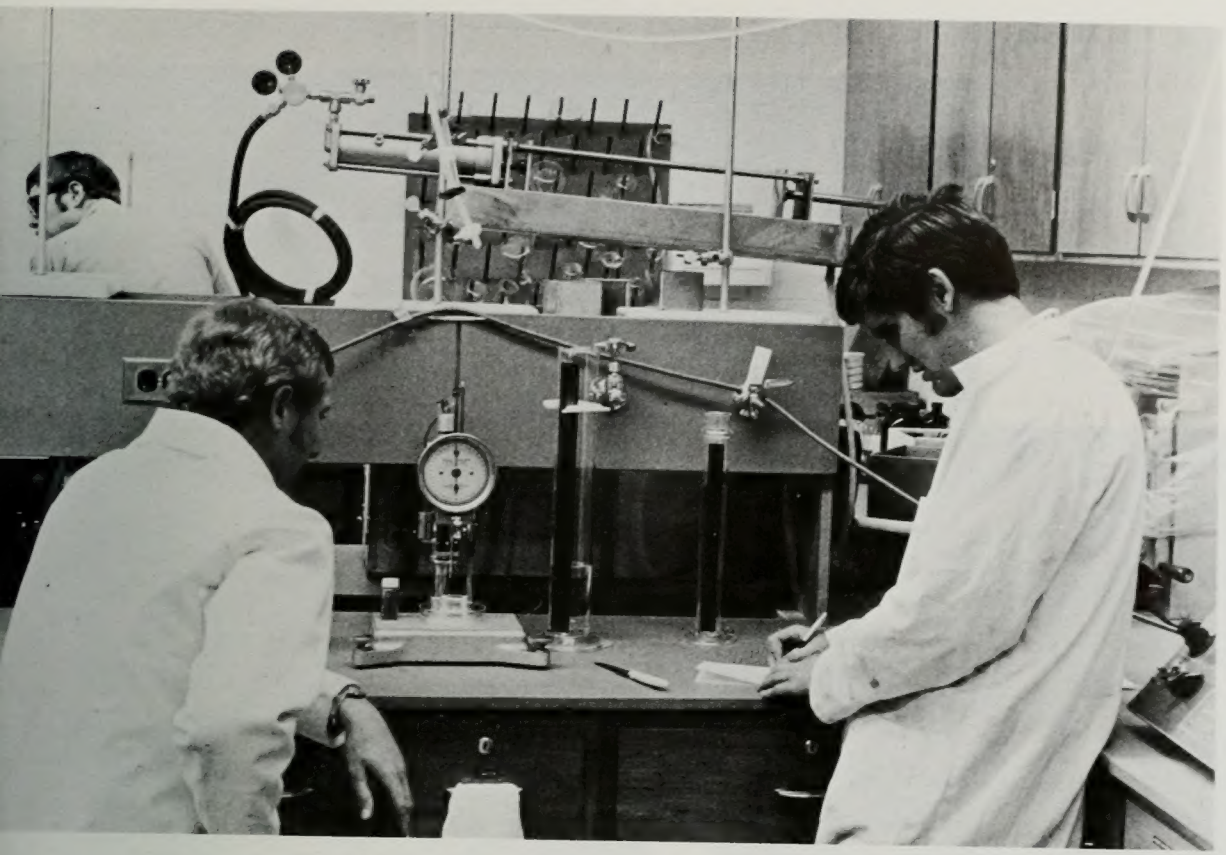

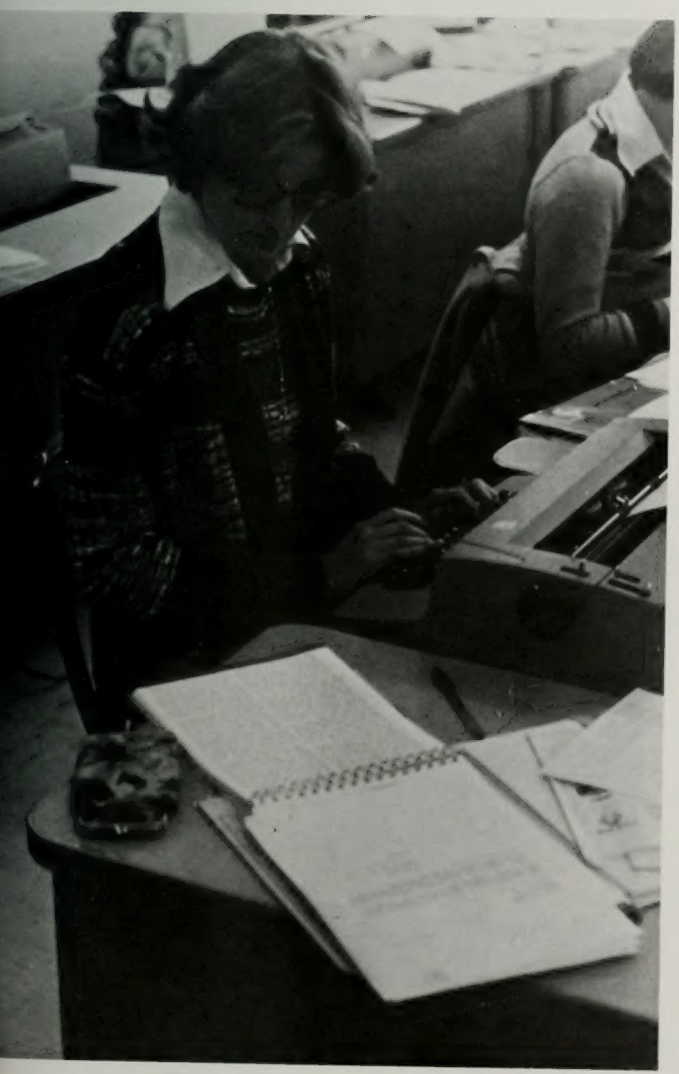

"We need to create and legitimize institutional alternatives to the present system."

DIGITAL TRAINER

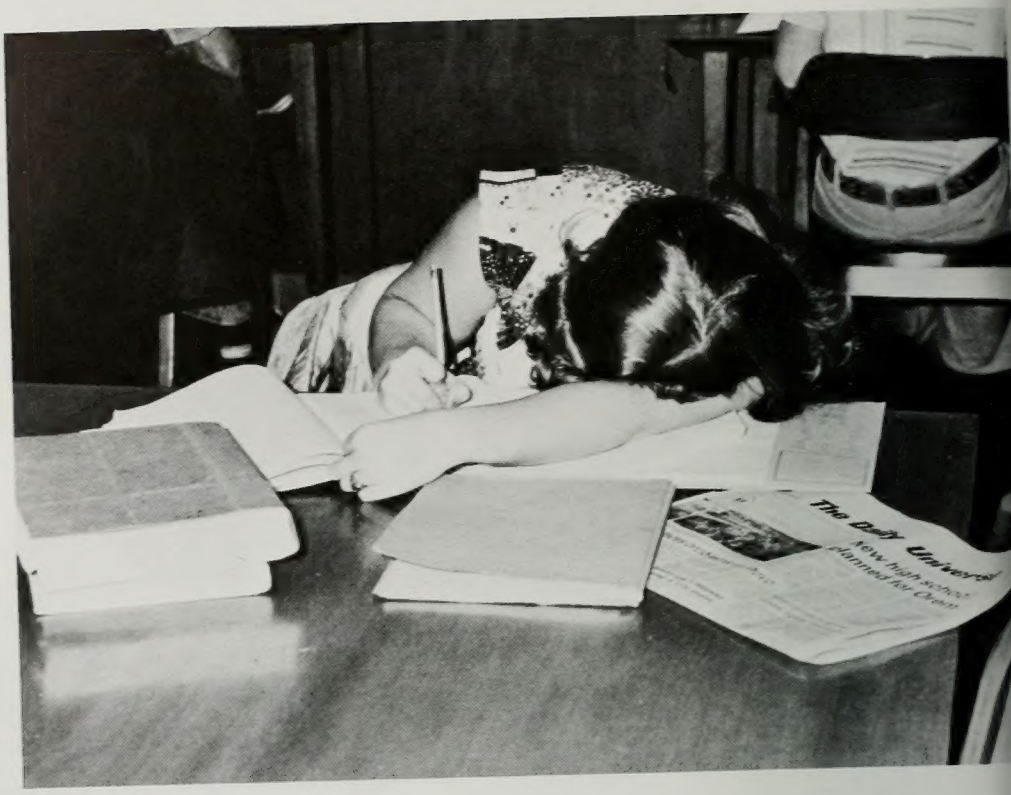

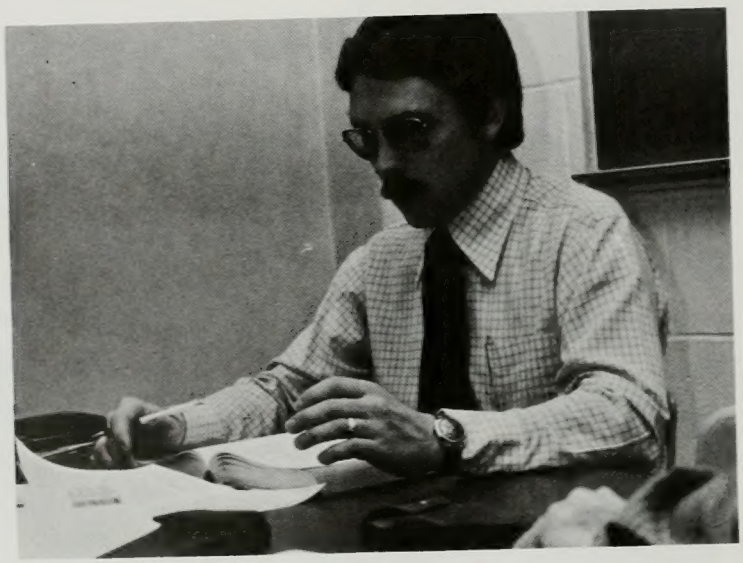

"At the beginning of the semester, I tried so hard to get the classes I wanted, and towards the end, I am trying even harder to drop them."

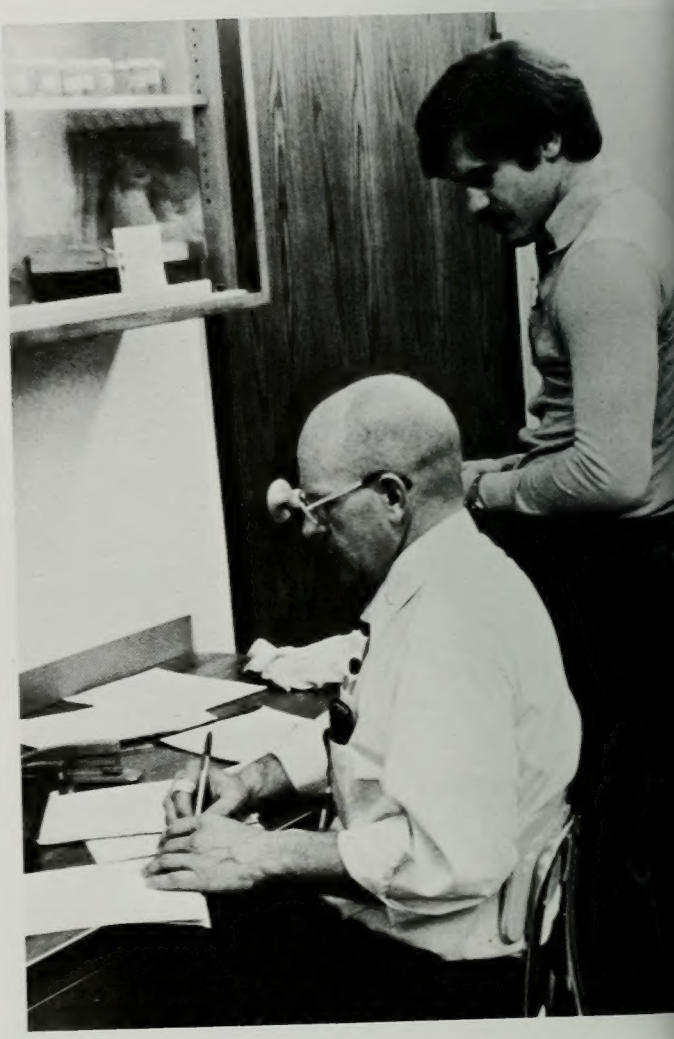

Nancy Wilber

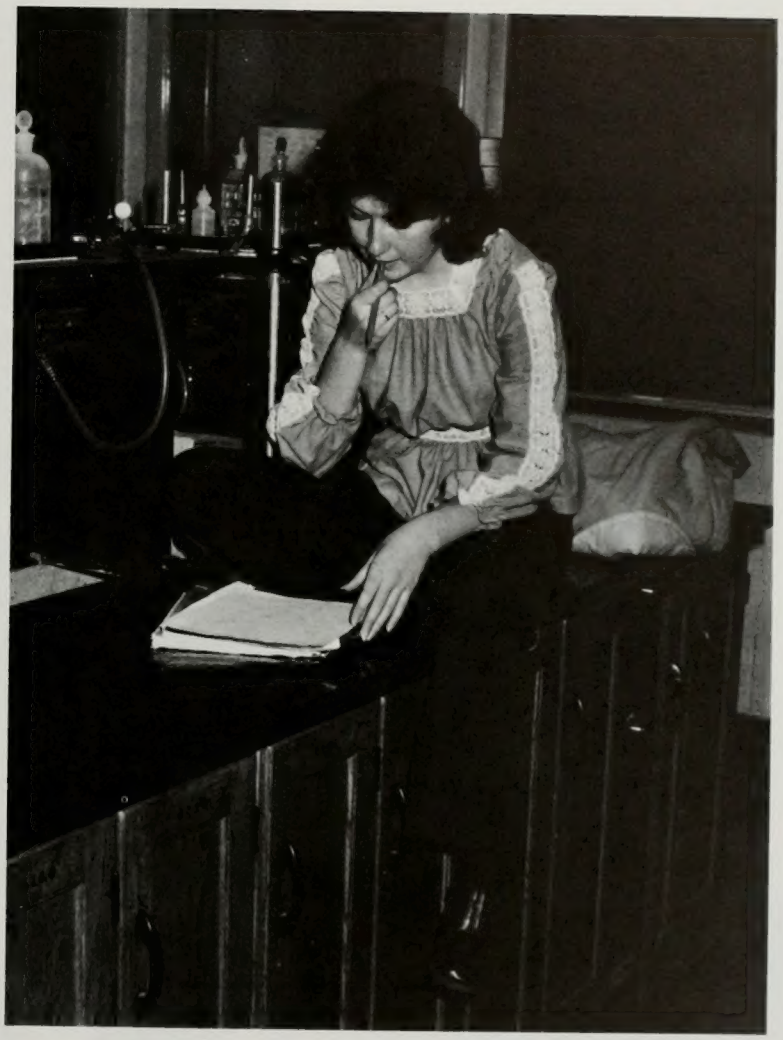

"These professors just expect too much from me."

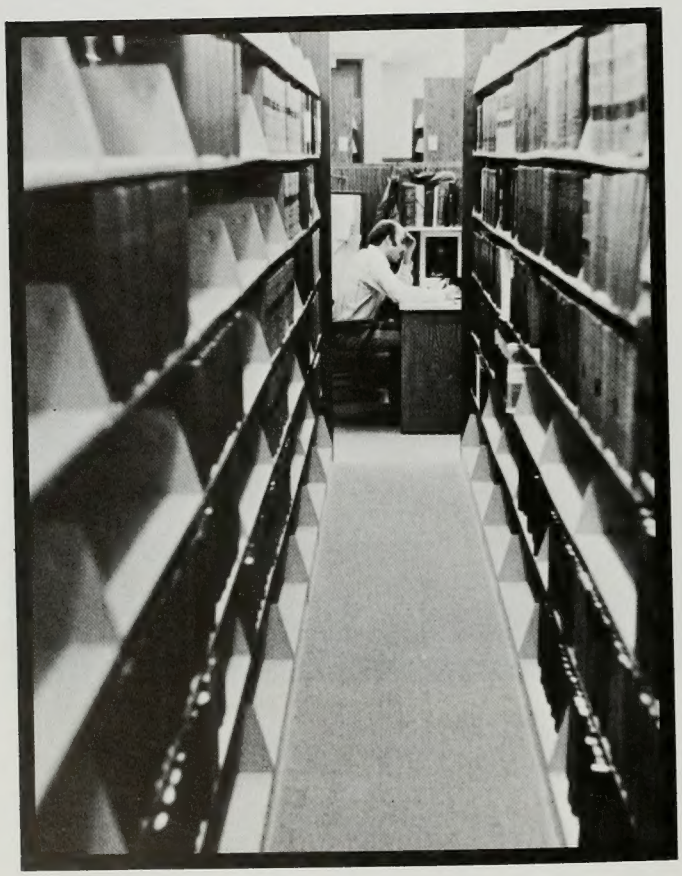

Louisse Quint

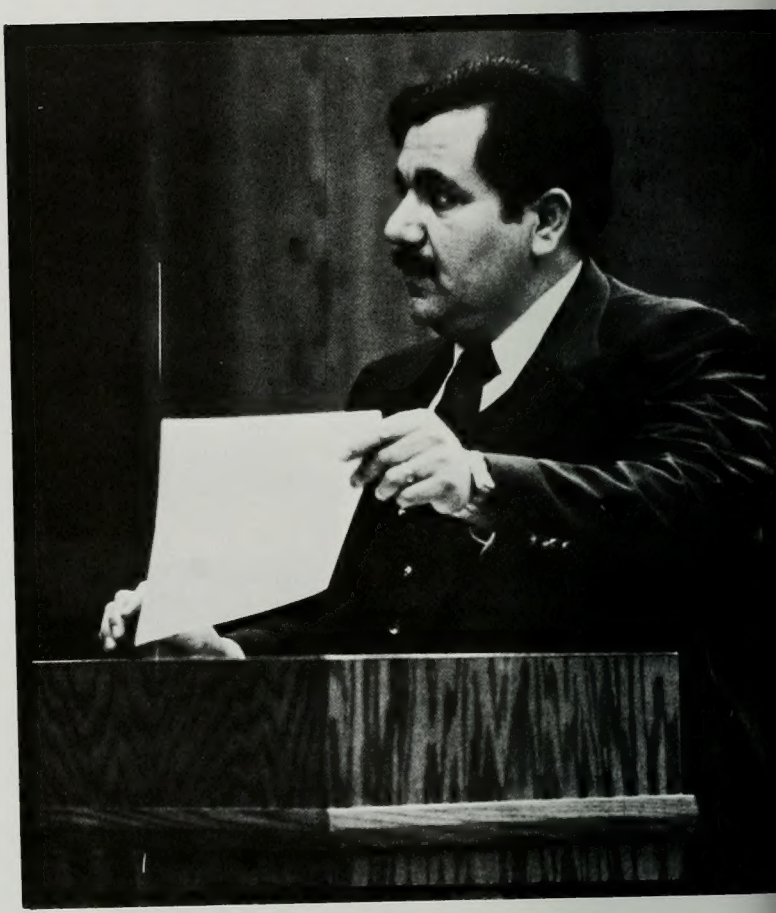

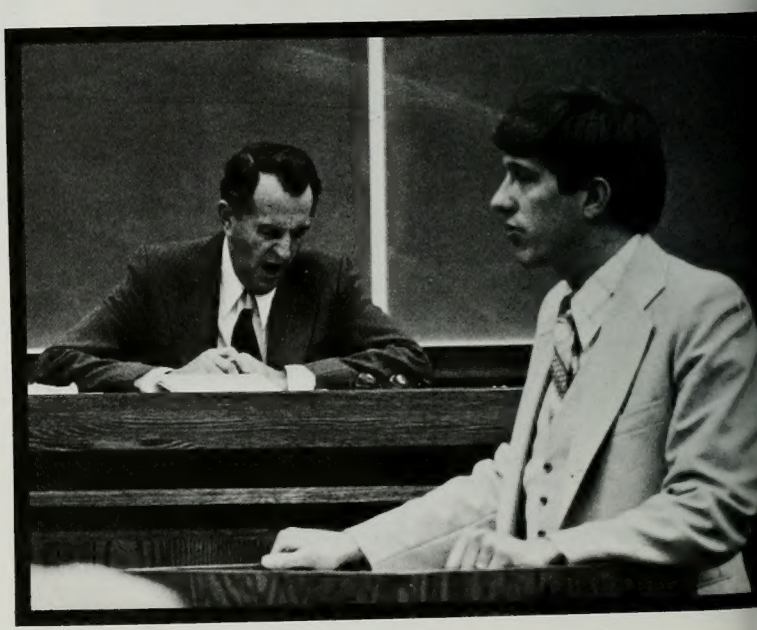

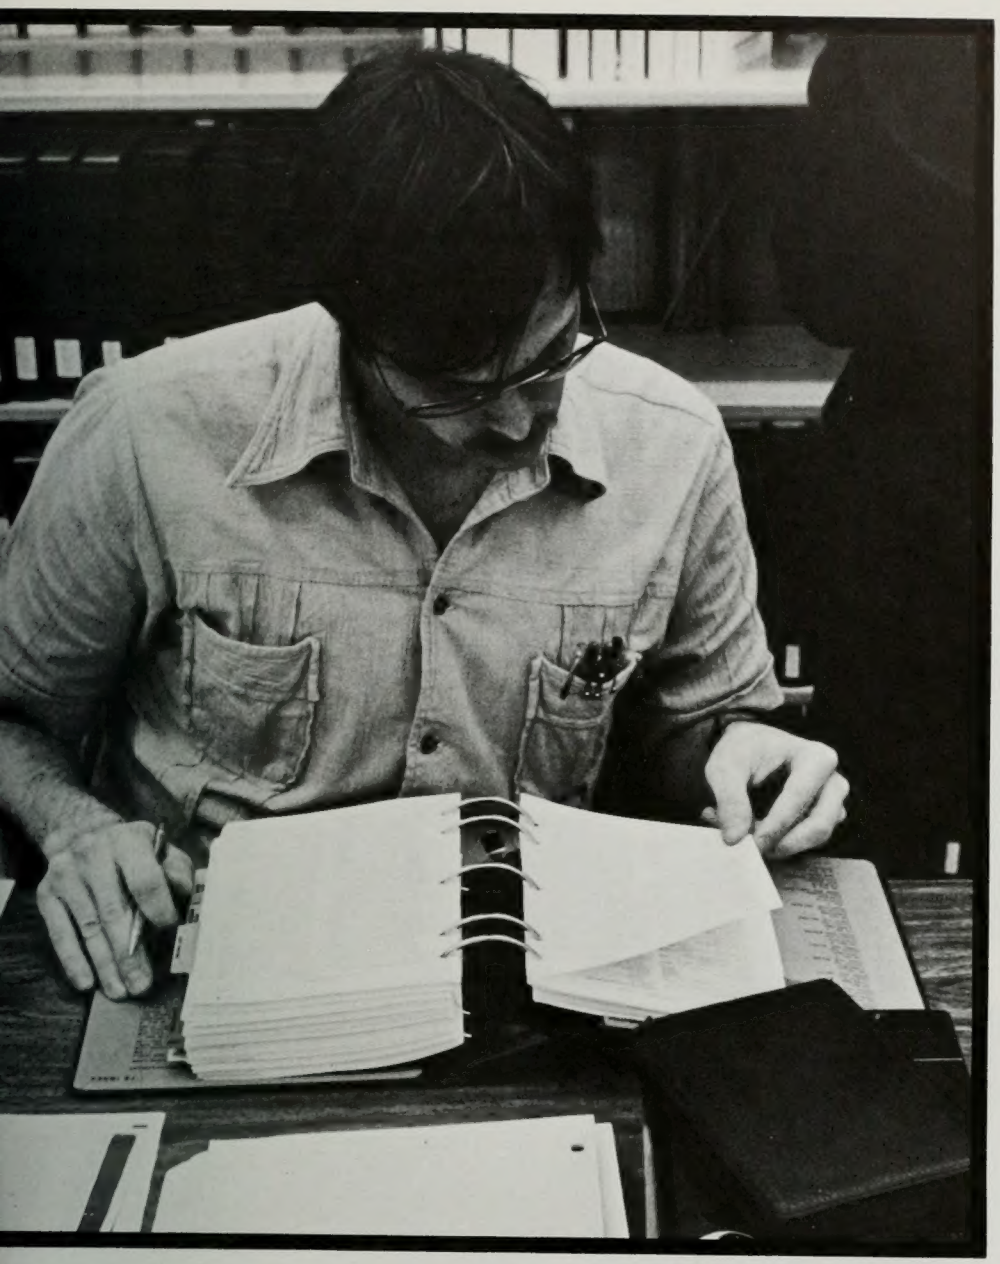

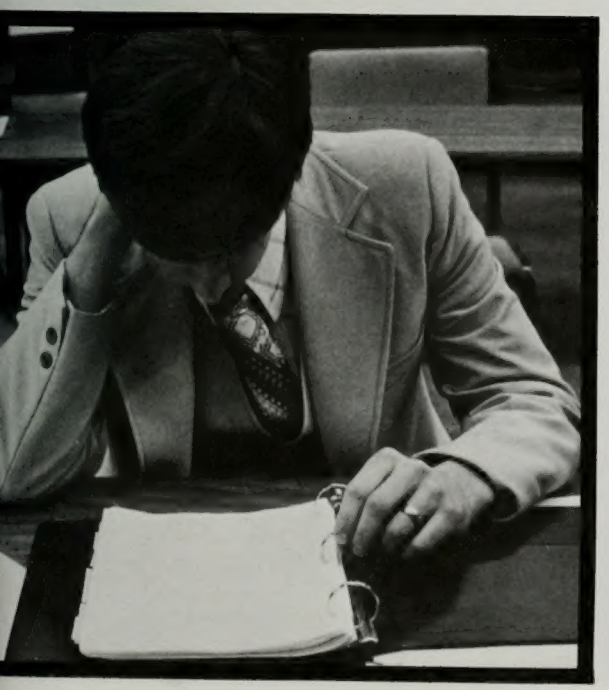

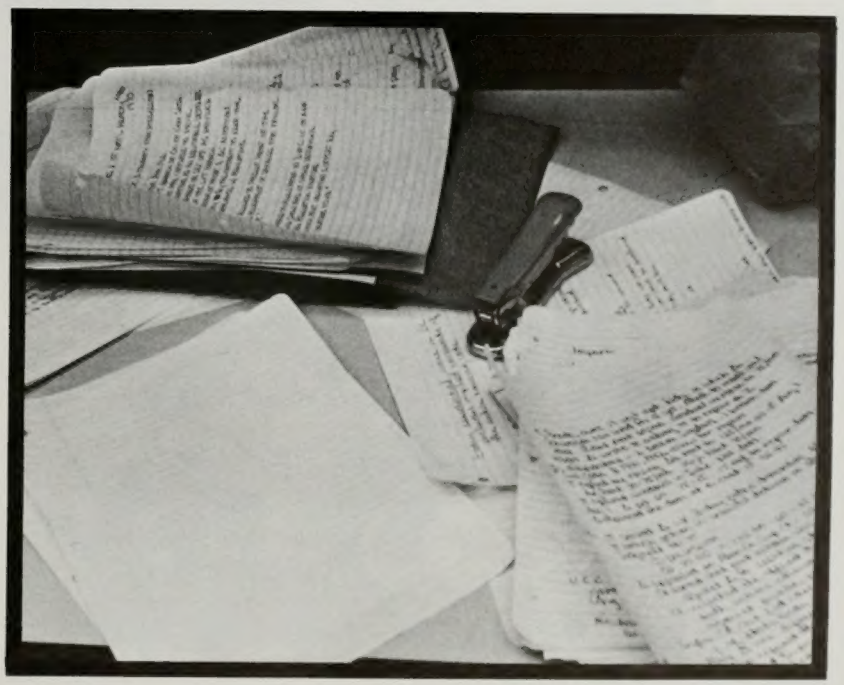

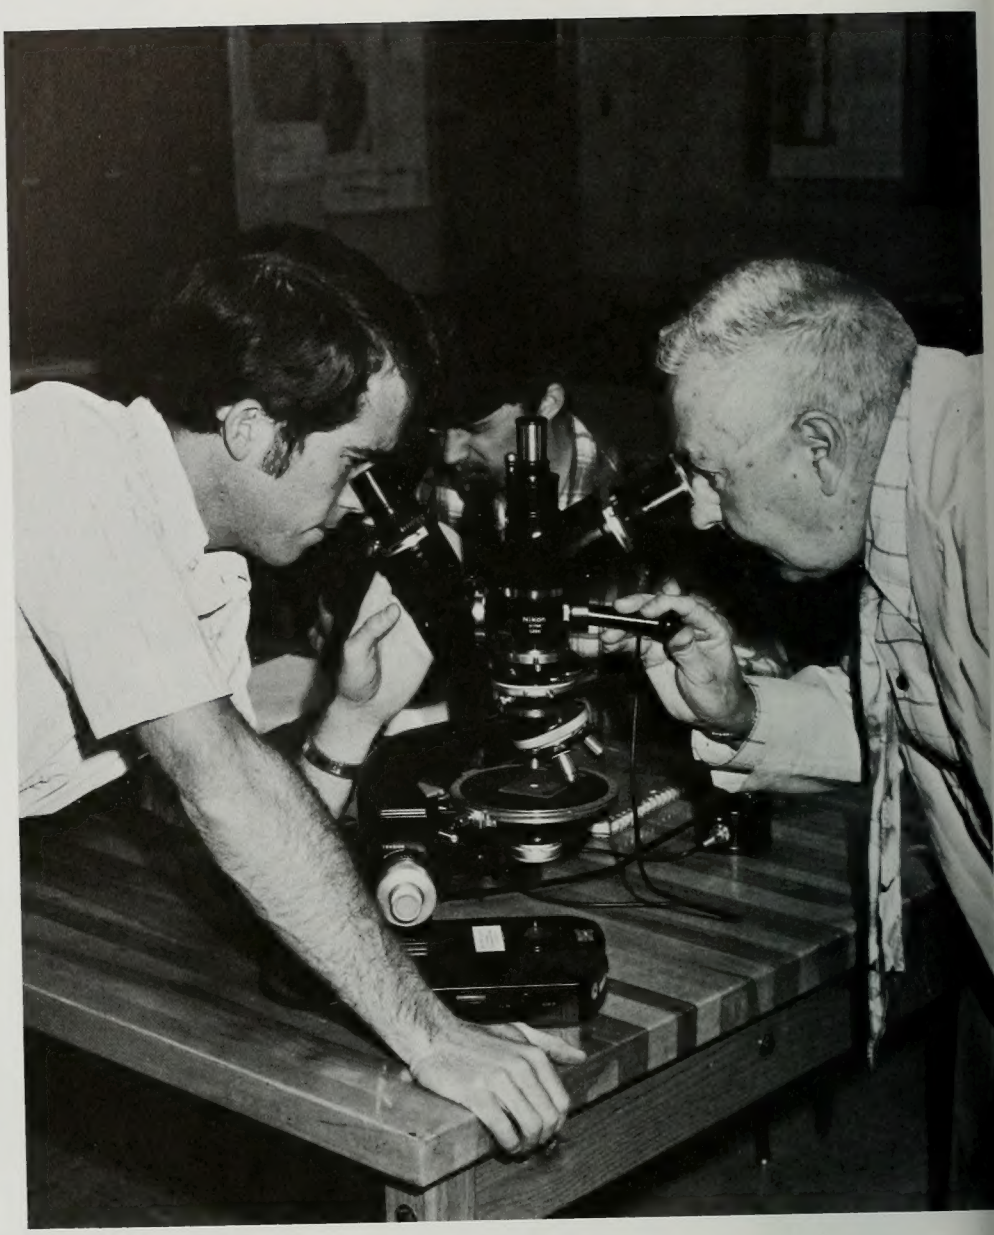

"BYU has a fine law school with a very good national reputation. Its program and accomplishments are impressive. Graduates have received national honors."

HOME STUDY LESSONS

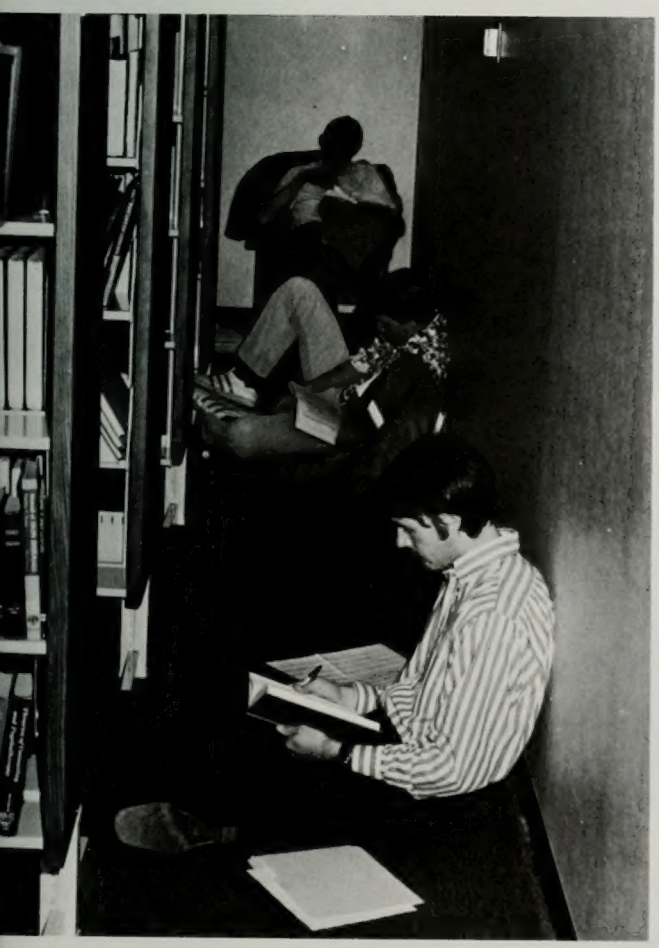

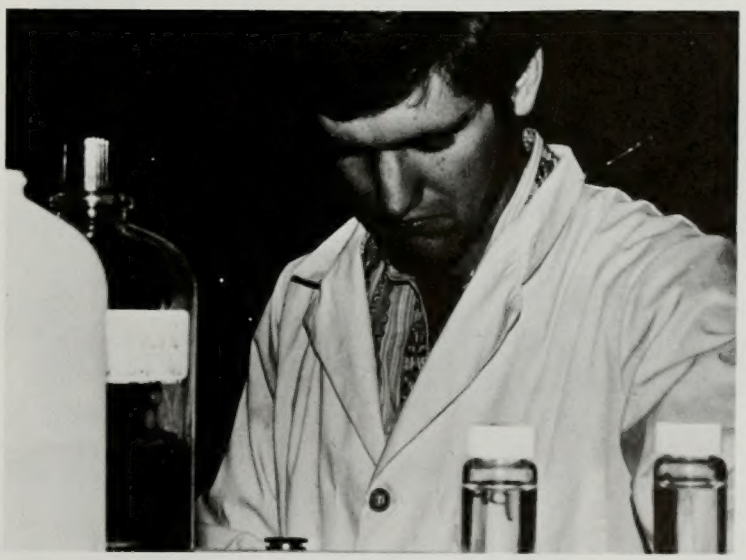

"The Honors Program tries too hard to be secular, thus, it ends up being too extreme. It's because it tries too hard to get us exposed to philosophies other than Church doctrine."

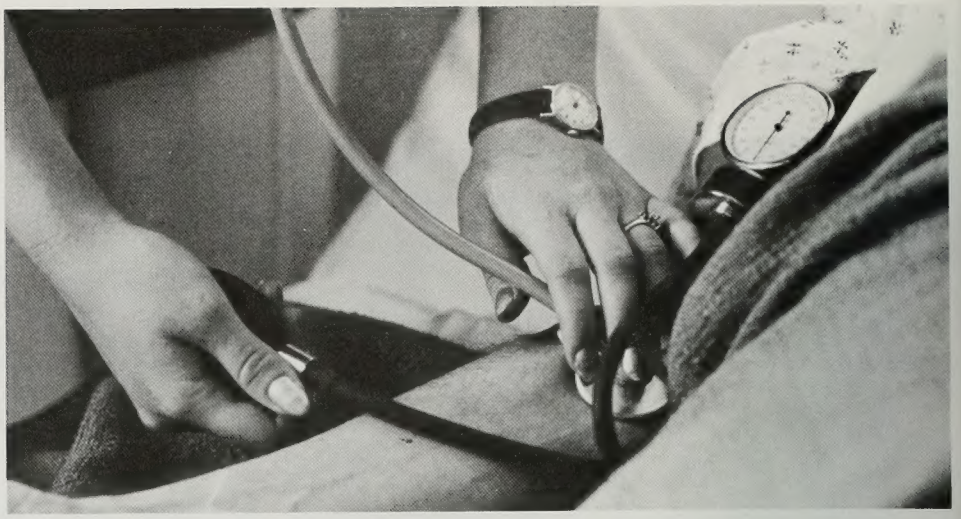

Lily Gardner

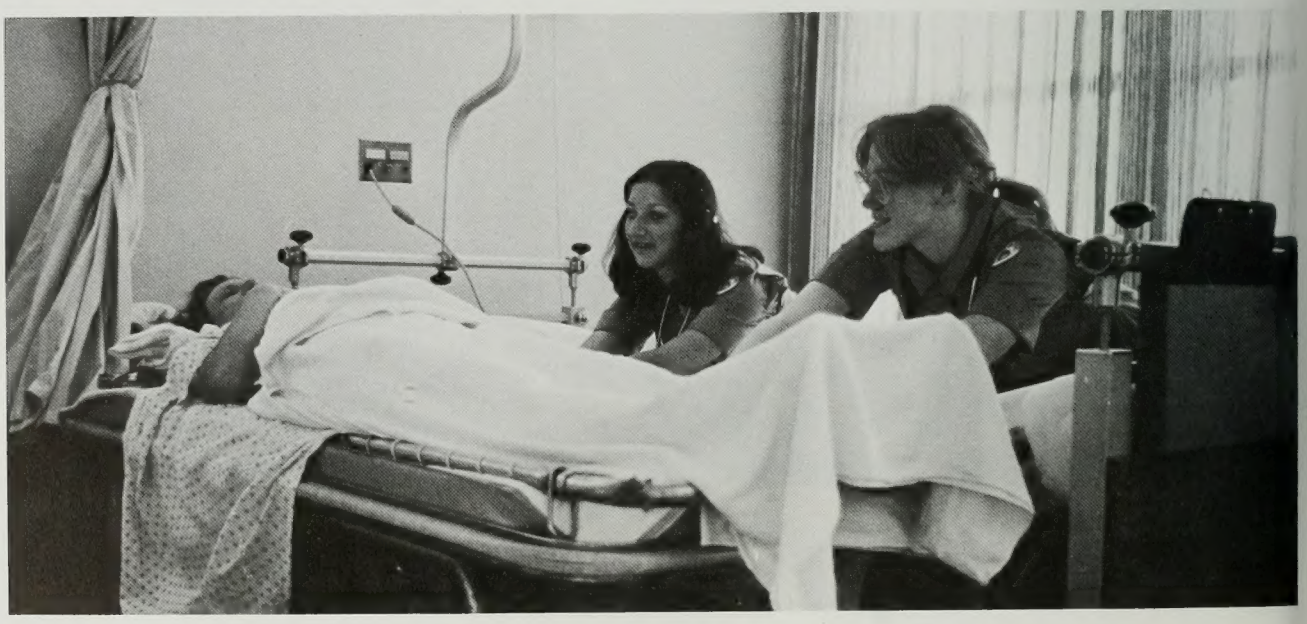

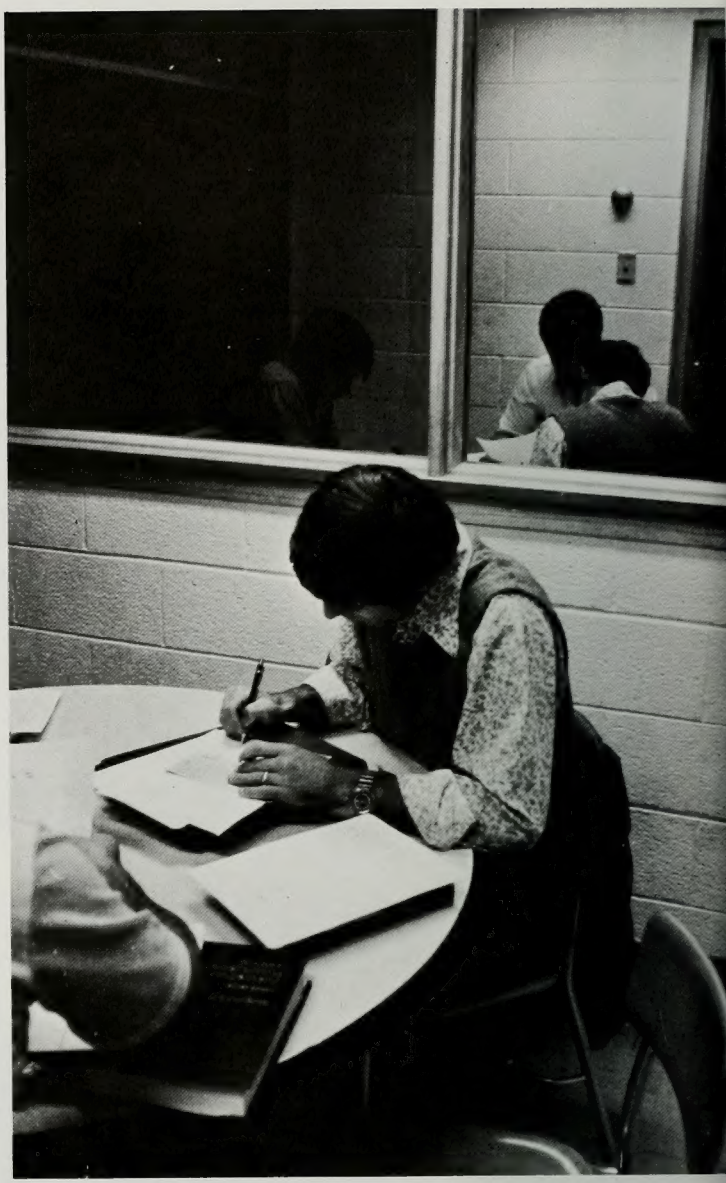

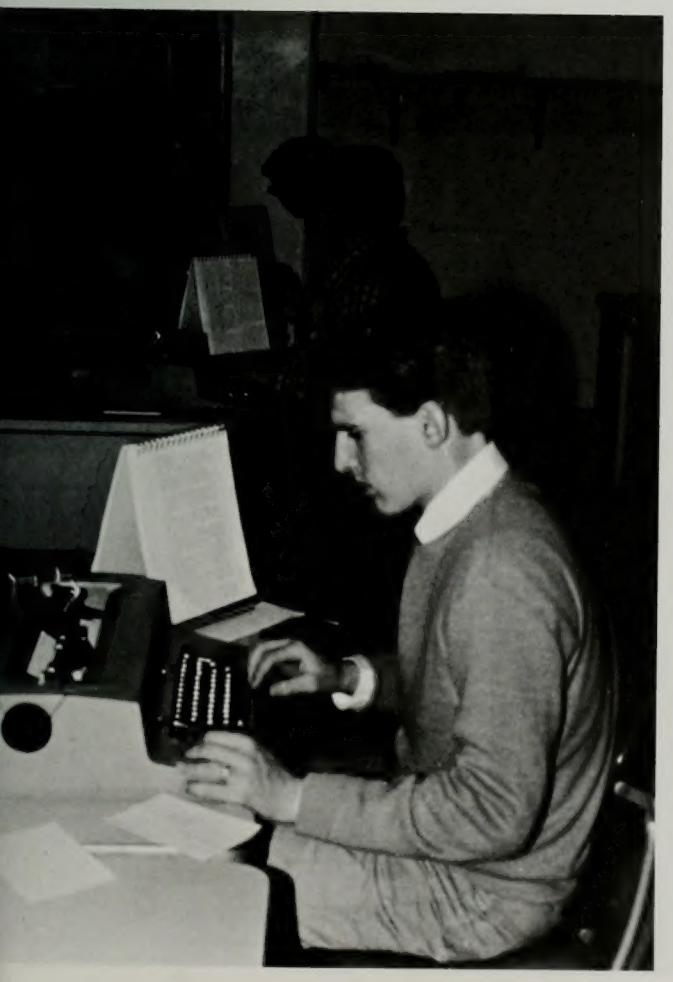

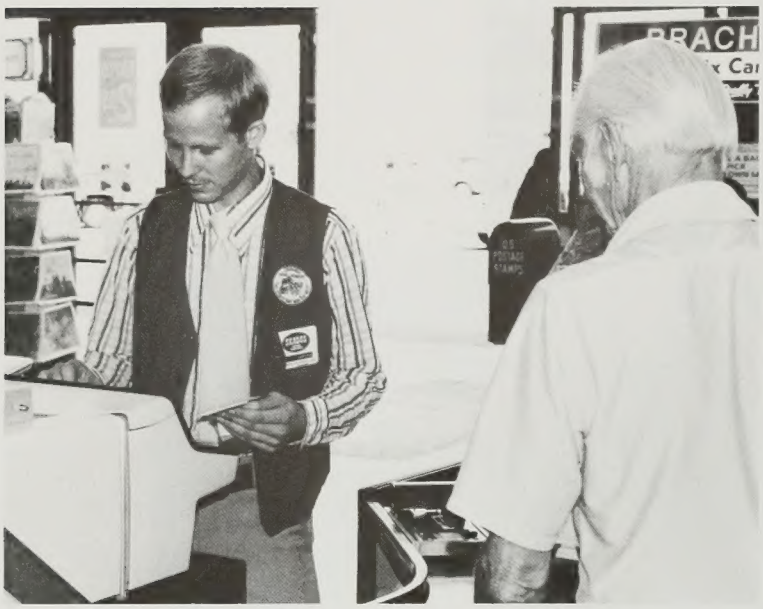

WKU

"Internships are great learning experiences because you get on-the-job training."

Leslie Cannon

"One of our goals at Skaggs Institute is to improve the quality and quantity of those entering a retailing career."

Looking At Our World

Looking At Our World

Looking At Our World both inside and outside BYU, is an attempt to capsulize the many ways we see ourselves and others. Hours of research resulted in a concise view of many local and national events of the past year. The Looking At Our World staff has brought together many perspectives and pictured them through many different eyes. Our hope is that you will see the many varied viewpoints of life and realize that each shade of meaning represents a unique individual.

Public faith in Carter's ability to govern ebbed: 77% of those questioned in a Harris poll felt "his lack of experience is clear to see," and only 49% (compared to 67% four months earlier) would still say he was "the fresh new face needed in the White House." There were reasons: he had promised much but failed to persuade Congress—which pushed most of his programs off to 1978.

TOP HEADLINES OF 1977

1. The Middle East
2. Death of Elvis Presley
3. Worst winter in history in the East, parts of the South
4. David Berkowitz arrested as "Son of Sam" suspect in New York murders
5. Bert Lance resigns under fire as budget director
6. Two Boeing 747s collide in Canary Islands, killing 577 persons; history's worst aviation disaster
7. Hanafi Muslim gunmen take over three Washington buildings, kill newsman and hold more than 100 hostages
8. Panama Canal Treaty
9. Southgate, Ky., nightclub fire kills 164
10. West German commandoes rescue 80 hostages from hijacked airliner in Somalia

With all the publicity of the IWY, it is easy to attend to the questionable topics of abortion, ERA and a lesbian takeover and forget some of the more relevant issues that apply here in Utah as well as nationwide:

—1. There is a gross inequity in the earning power of a woman as compared to a man. Women with equal training and equal experience earn less than 60 percent of the salary of their male counterpart.

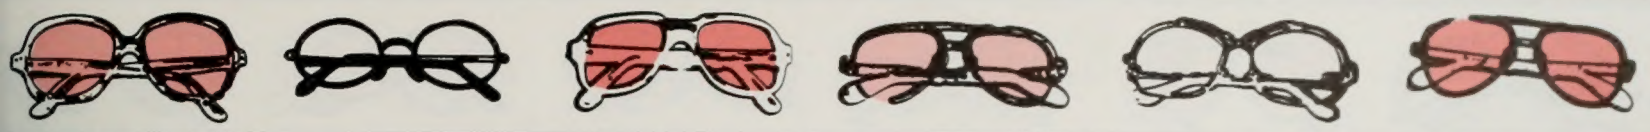

—2. Many professions that have traditionally been male, eg., law, dentistry and medicine can be filled just as adequately by women.

—3. Accepting the importance of family in the home, there is usually more than 20 years of earning power that a woman has after her children have gone.

—4. With over 25 percent of the adult population of the Church comprised of widowed, never married and divorced women, respectable and enjoyable occupations become a must for these people.

—5. The concern about inequities toward women will continue until significant progress is made. Proclaiming that the inequities do not exist or that women have a higher calling are no longer viable answers for most women today.

Every one of UPI's top 10 selections received first place votes, reflecting the diversity of opinion among those who put together the front pages across the country.

President Carter's first year in office didn't make the top 10 although his signing of the Panama Canal Treaty and the controversy over its ratification and the resignation of Bert Lance did.

Carter's first year, with his stand on human rights, energy program, differences with Congress and government reorganization, ranked high in our separate poll to pick those stories with long-term significance.

The Most Significant Stories of 1977

1. The Middle East.
2. Panama Canal Treaty.
3. President Carter's first year.
4. Social Security law changes.
5. Winter in East and South.
6. Strife in South Africa and Rhodesia.
7. Bert Lance resignation.
8. Trans-Alaska pipeline.
9. Drought in Midwest, water shortages in West.
10. Tongsun Park.

Why should we, citizens of the United States, suddenly feel the pricks of a guilty conscience. After all, the Panama Canal is only a strip of land a few miles wide.

It seems incongruent that America should develop a conscience after all these years of imperialism.

Michael Rutter

South Africa's problem is complex. A solution will only come about when people examine all aspects instead of being carried away by the emotional appeal of one side of the story.

According to the Daily Universe editors, the following are highlights on campus for the 1977-78 school year.

1. BYU student stabbed near the Maeser Building.
2. Plane Crash involving BYU students and Provo residents.
3. Chuck Kennedy resigning from office.
4. The new Monte L. Bean Museum.
5. BYU football co-champion in the W.A.C.
6. Gifford Nielson, BYU quarterback.
7. AIAW national volleyball championship.
8. Booing in the Marriott Center
9. Andy Williams.
10. New temple in South Jordan.
11. Osmond studio opening in Orem.

Inflation exists and will probably continue to exist in the forseeable future. As a result, the administration of this university has increased tuition in order to maintain the quality of the educational environment at BYU. I, for one, support this administrative action.

However, the economic and financial situation in which many students find themselves is already extremely tight; financing the increased tuition will be a difficult task.

In 1977, the consumer price index rose 8.1 percent (to April 1977) and in 1978, the index is likely to make a similar increase. Yet, has the minimum wage that students earn shown an increase of this magnitude? I submit that the meager wages paid to students have not increased sufficiently to offset the cost of living, let alone a 7.7 to 17.6 percent tuition increase. Until the students in this area are paid respectable wages (commensurate with those of Salt Lake City, at least) I will question the integrity of Utah Valley employers.

Some 6,500 students work for BYU during fall and winter terms, or 11,000 different students during a given year (counting those who quit and the new students who are hired.) It is estimated that about the same number work at jobs off campus.

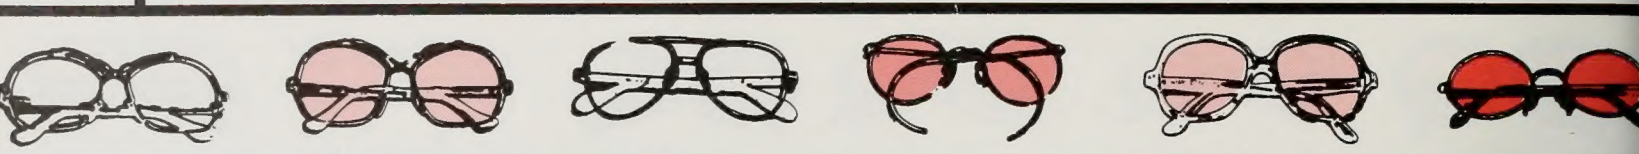

"As a general rule, working students do as well or better than those who don't—when they work within limits. They use their time more effectively because they know they don't have unlimited hours. Many have great learning experiences on the job."

Gary Turner

"I think going to school and working at the same time is a bummer. There are times when you need to study and the pressures of work won't let you."

"For several years now the administration of this university has been greatly concerned with the problem of students 'camping out' overnight in order to obtain tickets to special events. Our congratulations to Jon Anderson and the Social Office for their unique solution which will alleviate this problem for the Homecoming concert.

We agree with Anderson that Andy Williams is 'the one' for the concert. Don't get us wrong, we plan on purchasing tickets. Our parents have expressed a great desire to see Andy."

BYU football was co-champion in the Western Athletic Conference with Arizona St., who won the bid to the Fiesta Bowl because BYU will not play on Sunday.

BYU football traveled to Japan to play against Japan's best collegiate players in the Silk Bowl.

Noted individuals from the football squad were Gifford Nielson and Marc Wilson, quarterbacks, and Todd Christensen, runningback.

BYU Cross Country team scored enough points this season to be ranked among the top teams in the nation.

Next season Arizona and Arizona St. will be leaving the WAC and joining the PAC eight. Even though the two Arizona teams are leaving the WAC, University of Nevada Las Vegas, San Diego St. and University of Hawaii will be joining to take up the slack.

"This letter is for the football distribution system. I didn't want to go to the football game, anyway."

C. Douglas Lyons

"I need living examples in my life now as much as I did when I was younger. People who have risen to great heights in their particular endeavors and who stand for things I admire; especially people who don't compromise beliefs and standards in the face of success or hardship. Gifford Nielsen is such a person. We've watched him excel on the football field and seen his example of living one's religion on and off it. Whether or not he wins the Heisman Trophy, he is a "Heisman" winner in terms of courage and character. This letter doesn't help him off crutches, but I think it does speak for most of us on this campus who have had our faith strengthened a little more and who have had a visual example, through Gifford Nielsen, of a true winner."

Lines, a BYU tradition.

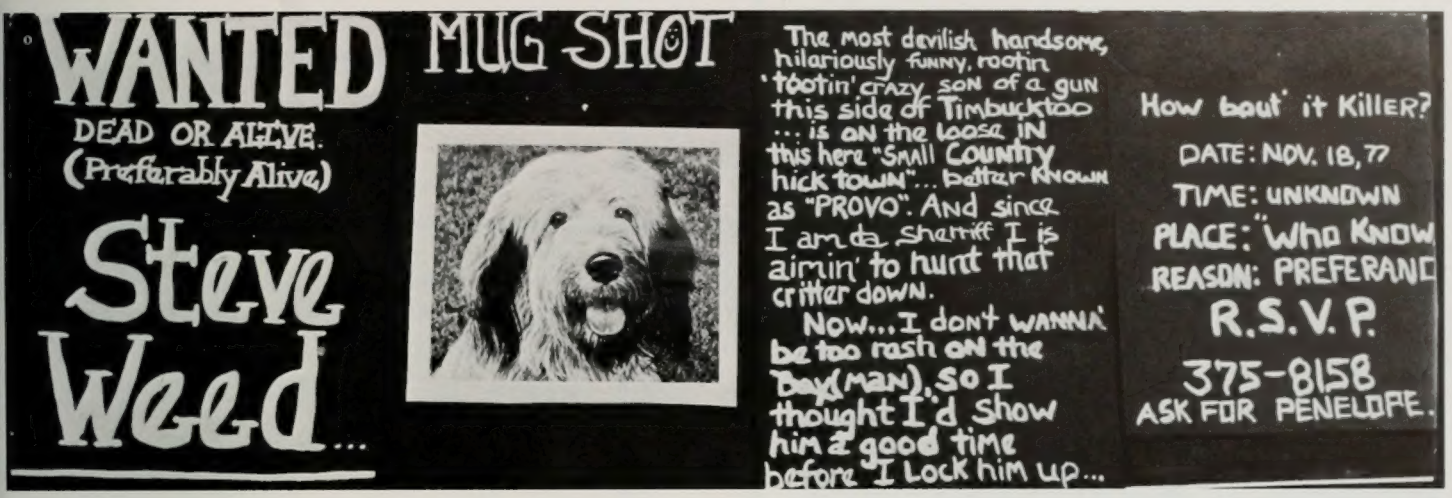

THE DIFFERENCES IN DATING

EVENT	AT HOME	AT BYU
Initial Observation	"She's not very attractive." "She's ugly."	"She's a Sweet Spirit."
Traditional Roles	The guy usually does the asking.	Every day is Sadie Hawkin's.
Response to his call	"Hello, Jones residence." "Good morning." "Hello?" "Yes?"	BYZOO, cage #10, which fox would you like to speak to?" "Kentucky Fried Chicken, do you wanna neck?" "Utah Power, & Light, which one turns you on?" "Top of the temple, Moroni speaking."
He arrives	He meets the family and is warned to have you in on time.	He meets five drooling girls who haven't been out for months.
The Date	You go to a great steak house with a beautiful view. You go to see the Academy Award winner of 1977.	You go to the Cougareat for a burger. You go to see the Academy winner of 1945 at the JSB on your branch budget pass.
The Goodnight	When you reach the doorstep the porchlight suddenly flashes on and off. You come in to find Mom or Dad waiting up.	When you reach the doorstep you are greeted by five empty ice cream bowls with spoons placed in them.

B.Y.U. is unique in many ways. ENGAGEMENTS are no exception. Candlepassings for girls who become engaged have become an on campus tradition. Banana splits are "paid up" to the girl's roommates when she excepts the proposal. Proposals compete for creativity in a "Great Engagements" contest held by a local jewelry store.

I'm wondering if I'm the only one who notices the certain peculiarities that persist on this campus.

"Hello," "Oh, hi." "What's your name?" "Susan, what's yours?" "Frank, I just got off my mission." "Really, where did you go?" "Chile." "I hear the success rate is great down there." "Yes, the Lord was with us. What's your major, anyway?" "Oh, I'm a home economics major. What's yours?" "I'm in prelaw." "Gee, you must be smart."

The funny thing is, by the seventh date their conversation is basically the same, yet underneath they're plagued with worries: "Is she leading me on?" "Why didn't he call last night?"

Somehow, they're always laughing and smiling around each other. If a concern is brought up, it's brushed over lightly.

In our efforts to appear "perfect," we easily forget that our dates are real people. It's always "What's he thinking of me?" or "Good, she's really falling for me."

So I'm the foxy lady, but what about sharing my joys, sorrows and fears with him? I could be a human being with feelings, him too. We could be the best of friends, but that's not how it goes. That's not romantic!

So, do we continue our performances, or do we dare be real and write our own scripts?

Dating At BYU vs. Home

As far as dating goes, if you really wanted to cut down on costs, go Dutch or wait for Preference. However, here at BYU I've been able to exist and have a pretty good time on $50 a month. My dating budget is about $3 a week. I enjoy the following activities and prices at BYU:

Activity	Price
Bowling, ping pong & weekend movie	$ 2.50
Homecoming dance & dinner	$15.00
On Campus theatrical events	$ 2.00
Racquetball, tennis, devotionals	$ 0.00
Football or Basketball game	$ 0.00

So on the average I spend about $3 or less per weekend, unless I go off campus.

At home I was a little less conservative. Money came easily and managed to go in the same manner. Here are a few activities and prices that I thought I enjoyed:

Activity	Price
Miniature Golfing	$ 4.50
Homecoming dance & dinner	$40.00
Movie	$ 6.00
Ice Skating	$ 3.00
Bowling	$ 4.50
Average Per Weekend	$ 7.00

All facts considered, dating is definitely more fun at the "Y". Because my pocketbook stays intact, and the selection of female companions is better, I prefer the BYU experience.

Merrill Crapse

"I'd like to mention a word about a few "peculiar" students on campus: those who obey the honor code of BYU.
No amount of rationalizing or opinion will change the fact that a student is or is not living up to his or her commitments and responsibility."

Kevin H. Clawson

"My faith in humanity has recently been restored. Last week, I had a package ready to mail for my brother's wedding reception. I took it on campus to mail, but I misplaced it before I could get to the post office.
I kept hoping that the package would show up at the Lost and Found, but it never did.
Today I called home, and I happened to mention that I lost the package. I was told that it had arrived a few days before. Someone had found the package and mailed it, paying first class postage. I want to express my appreciation to whoever found my package."

Lynn Hess

"Since coming to BYU, I have been appalled by an overwhelming number of students who are in school just to pass a test. Perhaps you've heard that popular question in one of your classes, 'Is that going to be on the test?' What the petitioner is really saying is, 'If it's not on the test, don't waste my time, I'm just here to pass the test and get the grade.'

True, we're all trying to get good grades, but our primary goal is, or should be, to attain an education, and believe it or not, both can be done at the same time.

All you have to do is to learn your subject. By so doing, you'll be prepared for the test and who knows, you may even learn something that isn't on the test (Heaven forbid).

Remember, when we get out in the world, it's the knowledge we've attained, not our test scores that will help us make decisions, solve problems and face situations.

The glory of God is intelligence, not test scores. 'Enter to learn—go forth to serve.' "

Rhodes Scholar

For the fourth consecutive year a BYU student was chosen as a Rhodes Scholar. This year's recipient is Kenneth R. Beesley.

"Does the new General Education program really exist? Is it a left-wing plot designed to totally confuse and otherwise bring about the demise of the average college freshman? The question may sound ridiculous, but is it any more ridiculous than the way the GE program is being handled now? General Inefficiency program or Grievious Education program seem to be more appropriate titles.

The program has been in effect for some time now, but how long will it remain ineffective? Anyone who can figure the program out should be exempt from all exams! The program simply cannot be useful when virtually no one knows about it at all. The new program ought to be taken directly to the students, with a great increase in publicity and availability of material on this subject."

Garth Ferrell

"The new GE program is not understood by students. My contention is that perhaps it wasn't meant to be understood by students (a short review of the system suggests it was meant to be understood by no one). Learning to cope with this well-designed program will help the university student cope with other 'well-designed' programs in the lone and dreary world. (Have you ever tried to transfer the title on a used car?) There ain't no such thing as a free lunch."

Mike James

"The solution to the problem of long lines, full parking lots and a crowded Cougareat has recently come to my attention. How about a mandatory death penalty for all parking violations and snowball fights? If BYU Security would listen to my advice, all of our woes would be at an end. Surely this action would also suppress the radical left-wing faction that is so clearly rampant at this university."

Mark Blanchard

Security

Crime on campus as a whole increased 31% this school year, however 66% of all arrests involved people not affiliated with the university.

The number one crime on campus was theft, although only 3% of all offenses were grand larceny.

Sex related crimes were ranked second. BYU Security continues to take measures to reduce crime and make the campus a safer place to be. Chief Robert W. Kelshaw said his staff is working toward making the campus safer for all students, particularly for the female. Some preventions taken this year: shrubs have been trimmed; fences, 19 additional street lights and emergency phones have been installed along wooded paths.

Security is placing more officers on duty and bought two motorcycles and two bicycles to patrol the campus more completely.

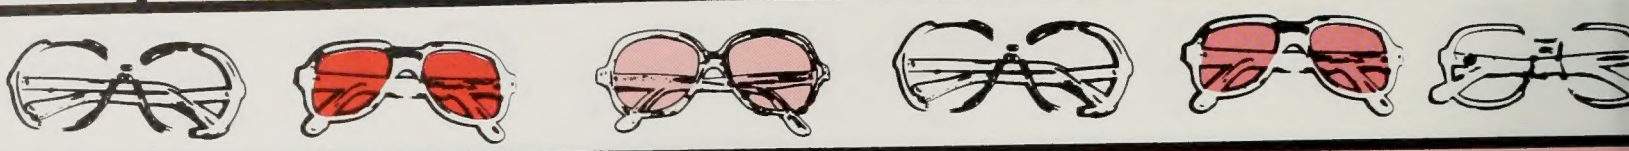

"Congratulations to BYU Security for thwarting once again the subversive, criminal activities so prevalent at BYU.

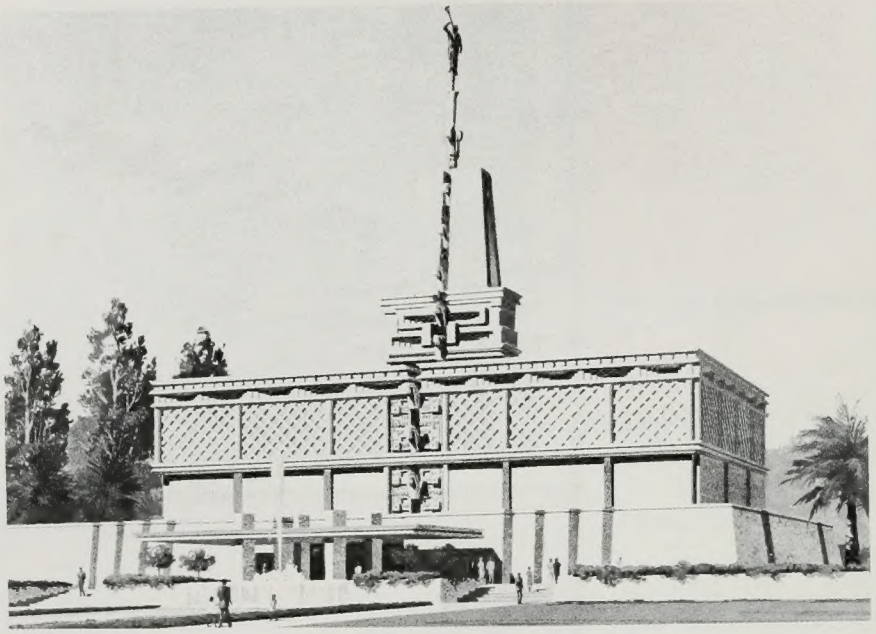

In a Dragnet-like display of heroism, these valiant protectors of the innocent conducted an intense investigation into the diabolical distribution of flyers throughout the library one Monday morning.

These flyers warned long-haired male students to beware lest their repentance be enforced by a group of 'determined reactionaries,' an obviously seditious effort, presenting a 'clear and present danger' to the welfare and safety of all BYU students.

It is a relief to know that these dangerous flyers have all been burned and that even now a search is underway for the culprits. We hope they will soon discover their 'hide-out,' for then, full attention can be turned to apprehending those dastardly bicycle riders who try so hard to break the law."

Some 33% of all endowments performed since the organization of the Church in 1830 have been performed during the last six years. In accordance with this increased temple attendance, the Church is currently in the process of constructing six new temples. They are located in Sao Paulo, Brazil; Tokyo, Japan; Seattle, Washington; Mexico City, Mexico; American Samoa; and West Jordan, Utah. The temples in Laie, Hawaii and Logan, Utah are currently being expanded and renovated.

"When people found out I was not a member, they immediately became friendly and tried to convert me so I tried to keep it a secret. I just went along with the program. Then when I started feeling left out and started questioning things, I found out it really is true."

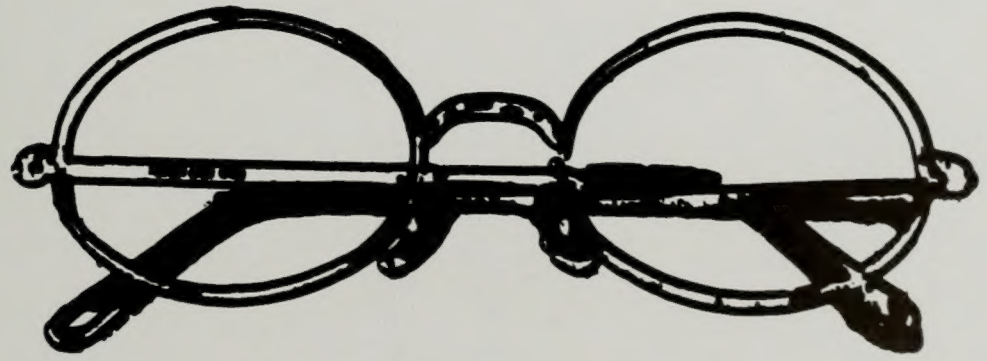

Keith Kanet

"The Church of God will go forth boldly, nobly, and independently until it has penetrated every continent, visited every clime, swept every country, and sounded in every ear; until the purposes of God shall be accomplished and the great Jehovah shall say, 'The work is done.' "

President Spencer W. Kimball

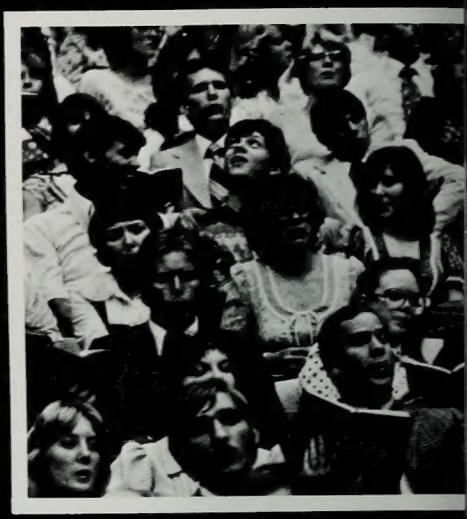

As we pursue our education we try to secure a proper perspective of the way things are. Because of our unique experiences we view life differently than the world does. Our success will depend on the achievement of a correct balance between these varying perspectives. And so we seek those passages that will bring our vision into sharper focus and enable us to be in the world but not of the world.

"Thank God for the Youth of the Church."

Paul H. Dunn

"We must forgive to be forgiven. Let God be the righteous judge."

Spencer W. Kimball

Branch And Stake Activities

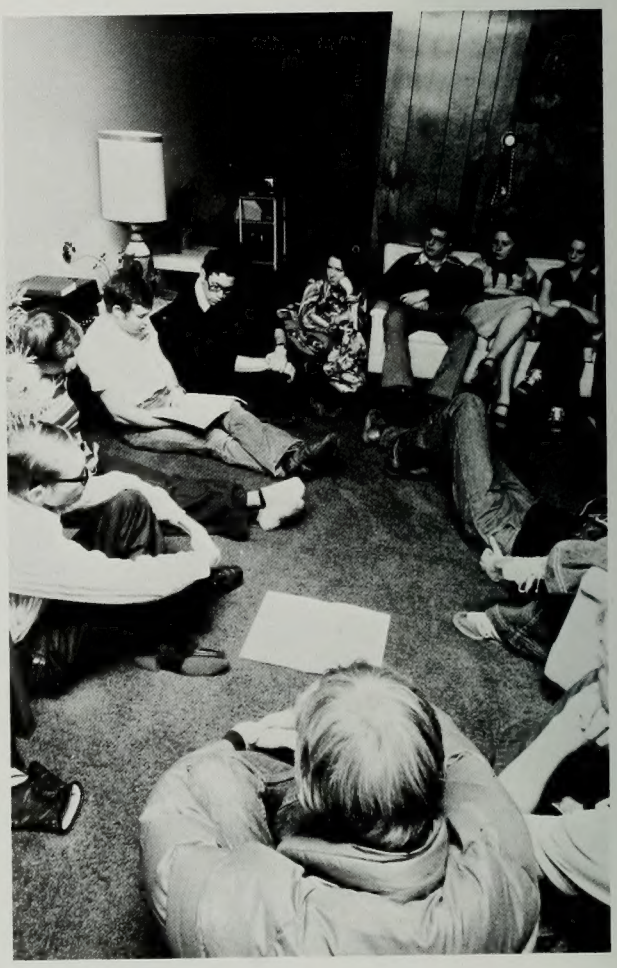

"Only 'ONE' knows, and I'm afraid I haven't been talking to him enough."

Jill Lasarer

"I think it's really important to maintain a high spiritual level while attending school. That's why I choose BYU over other schools."

"Branch activities are important, not just for the social aspect, but they serve to draw us closer together as friends, and that's by far the greatest advantage."

David J. Cox

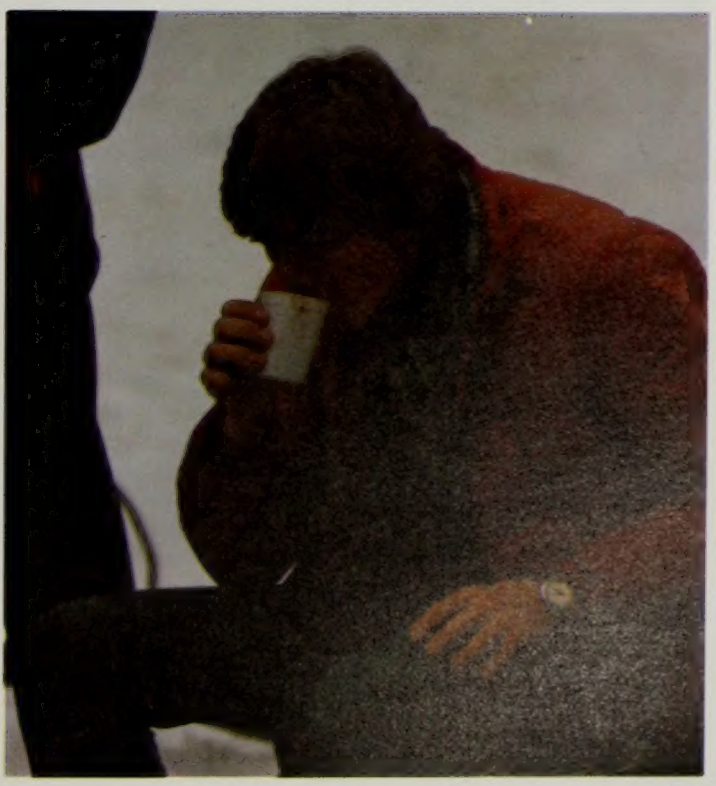

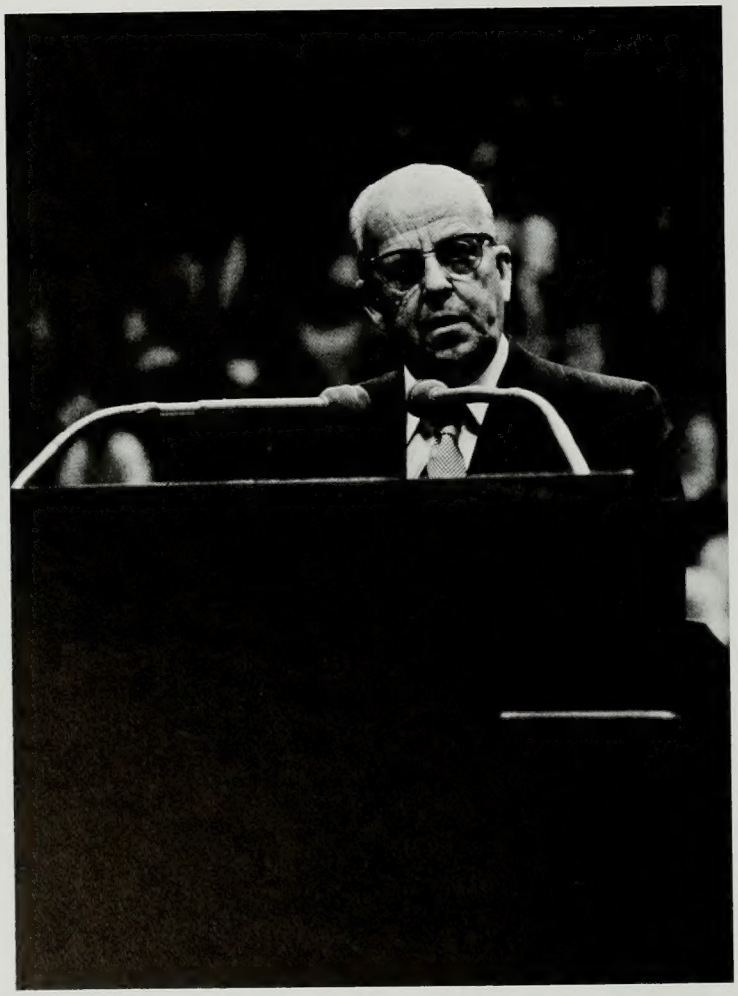

Devotionals

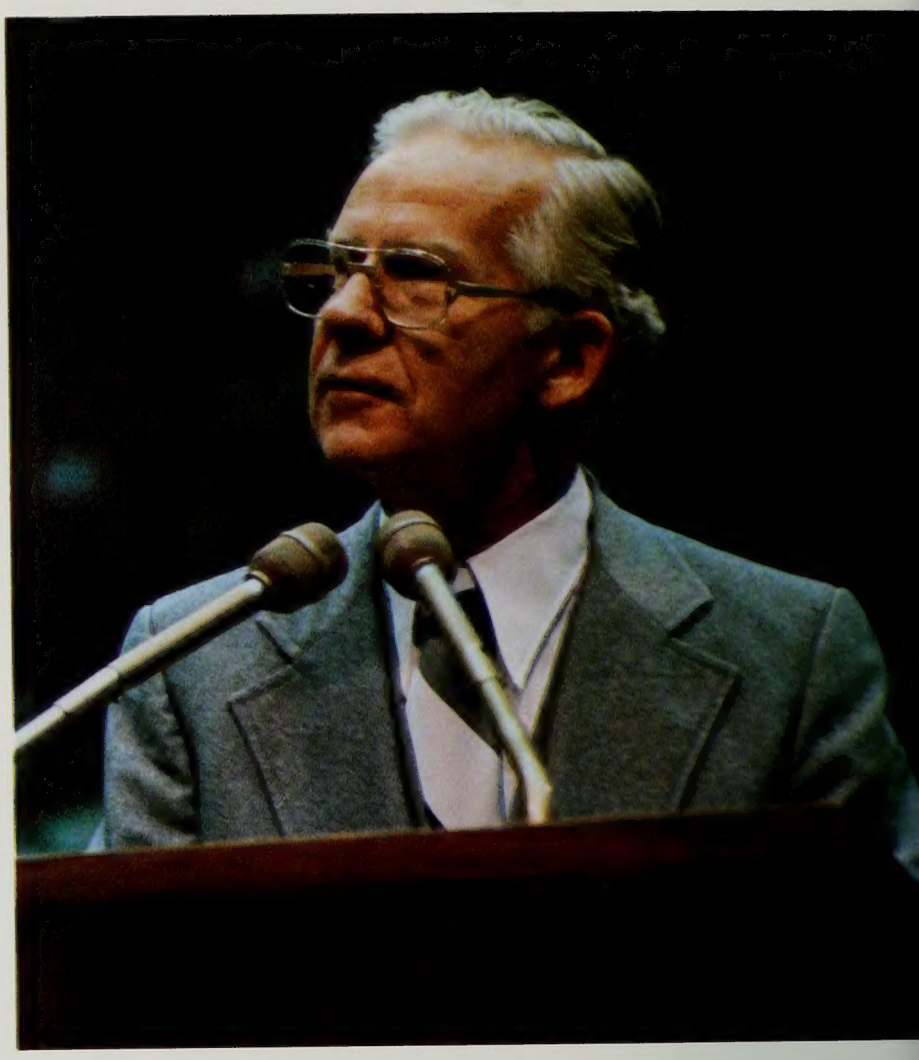

"Going to the devotionals can make the difference between a great day or just an alright day."

Jennifer C. Wood

"LeGrande Richards really made me want to get out and do missionary work because of all the stories he has."

Tami Dayley

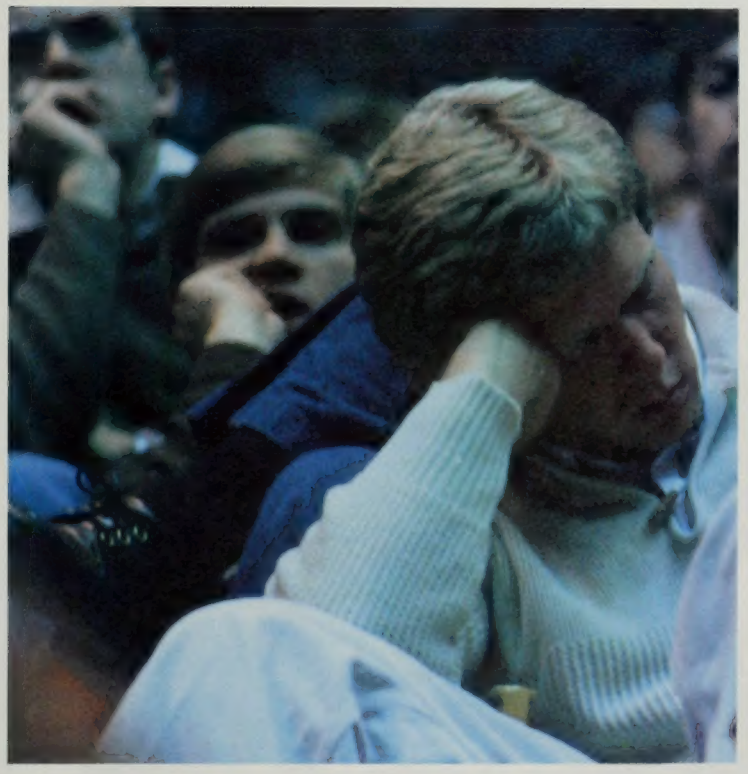

"I don't have a morning class on Tuesday so it's really hard to motivate myself to go to the devotional, but when I do, I wonder how I could have ever thought of missing it."

Becky Toomey

"BYU would not be the same without the missionaries. They're as much a part of the University as the Church is."

Doug Brinton

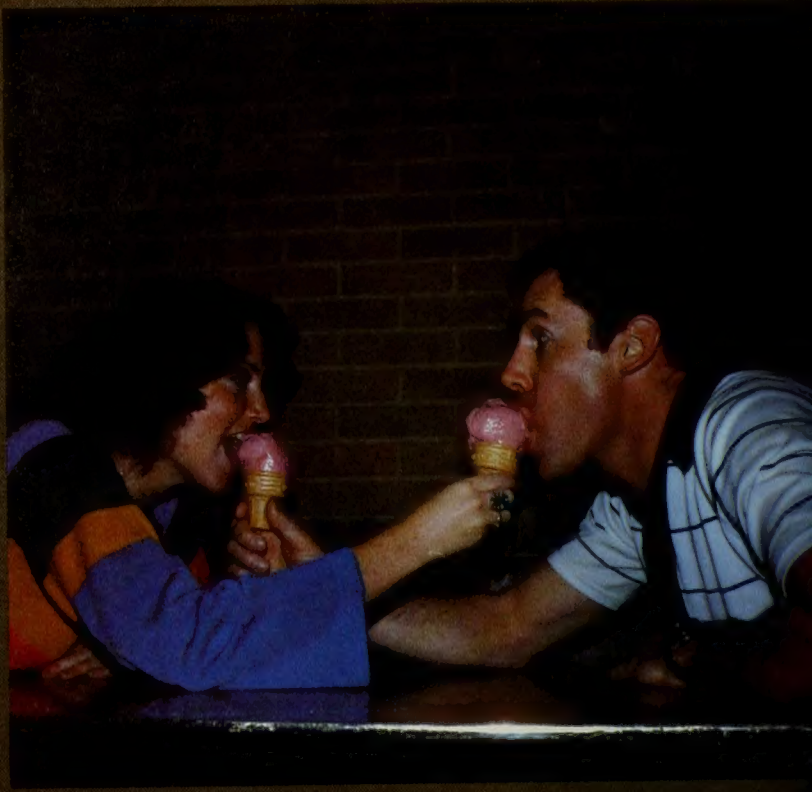

PEANUTS GALLER

"BYU offers an incredible and completely diversified array of experience."

David Ries

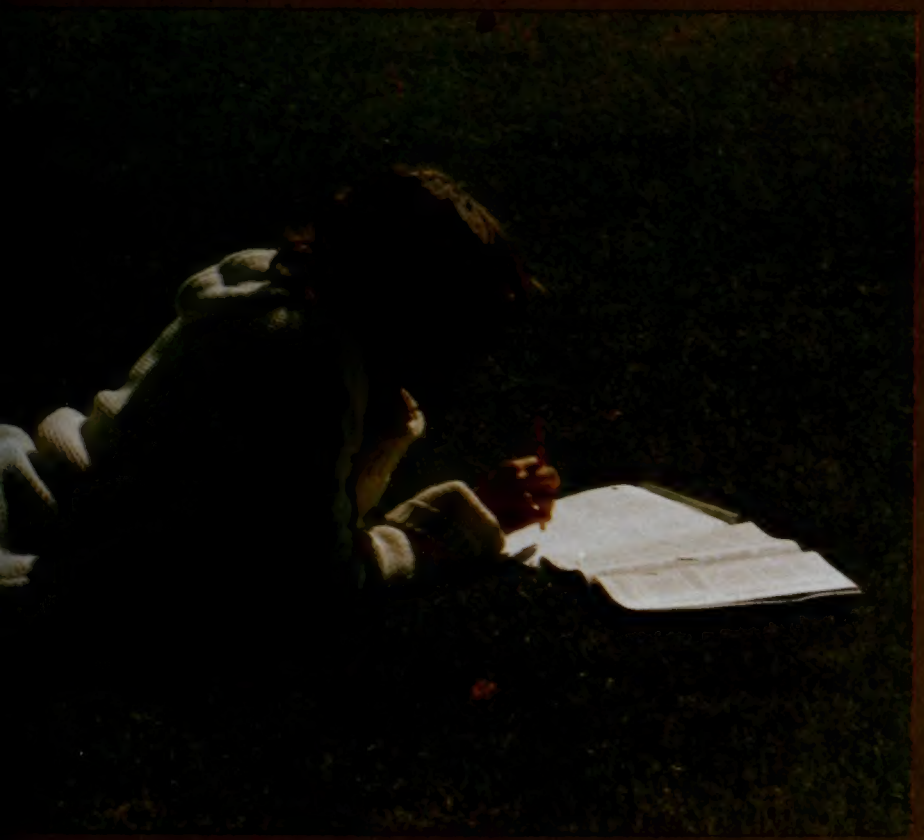

"I think the most unique thing about BYU is the stress put on the development of the character rather than totally on intellect."

Perry Bratt

And though I walk this path alone,

There are many who will guide me,
Who will extend a hand when I need it,
Many, whom I will never see.

And no matter how long my stay here,
In a way I'll stay forever;
For a little of me I leave here,
And a little of here I take with me.

Through this community I will know
That friendship will strengthen me wher'er
I go,
And through love I surely will grow,
Because this life demands that it be so.

"I find the stimulus offered by this university with its countless and varied opportunities and people an exciting process for self-fulfillment."

Jerold Johnson

"BYU is the best place for all the right reasons."

Starlyn Brown

"I like the atmosphere. Everybody is friendly."

Pam Boardman

"Teachers here at the 'Y' are very student-oriented and concerned. Students have a different attitude toward life, an attitude of caring. They have more purpose in everything."

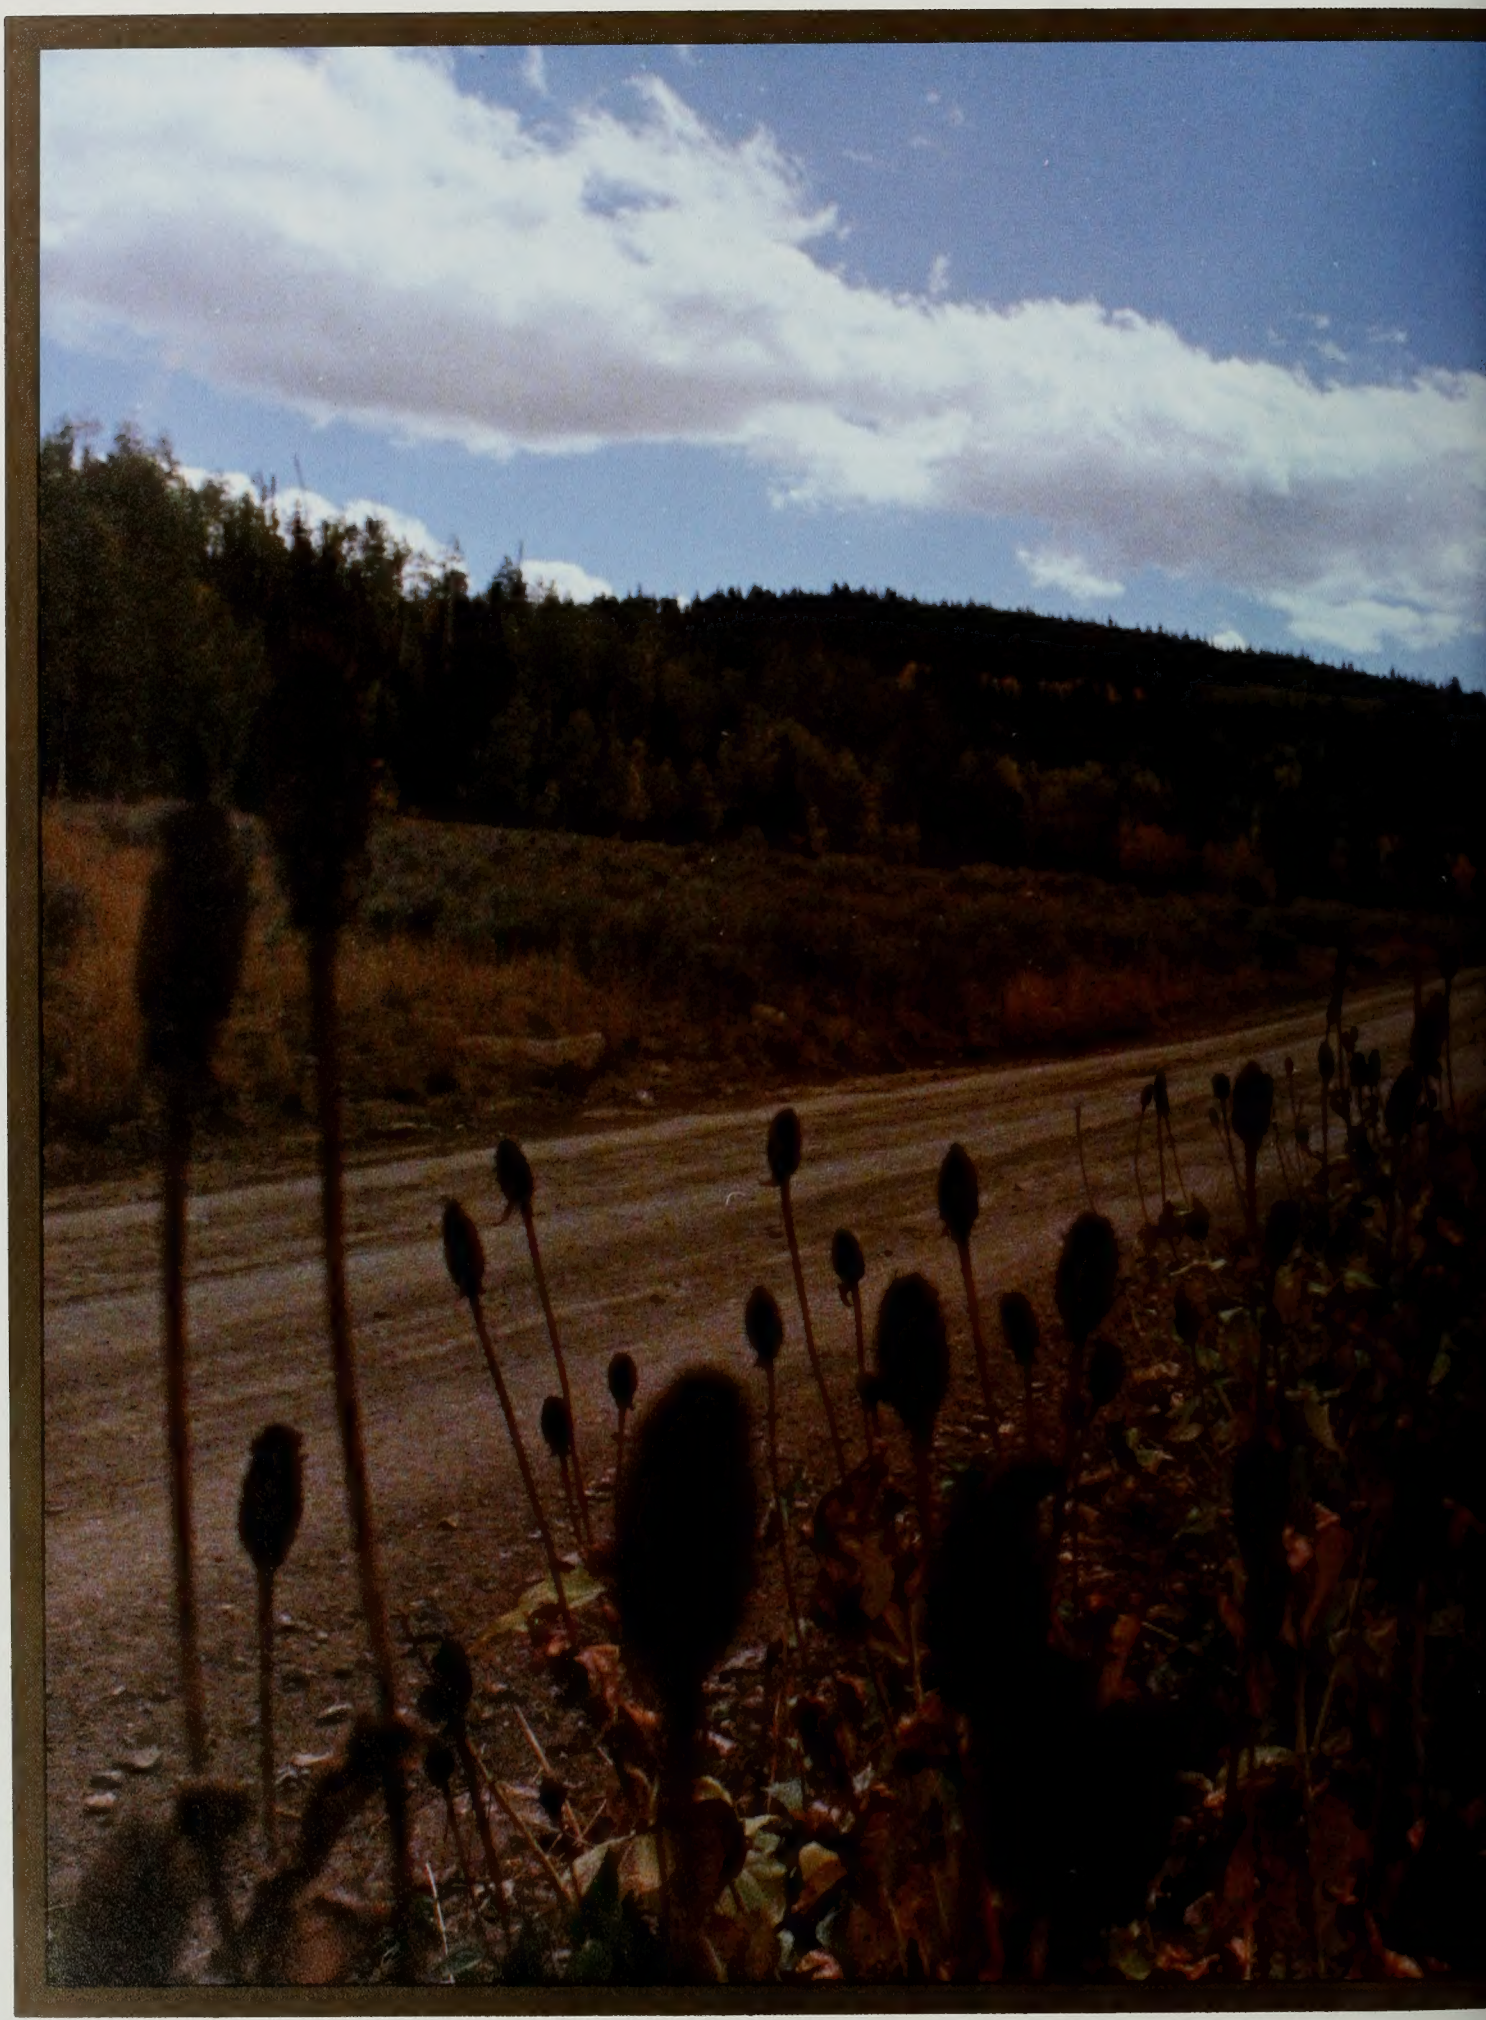

Dahnelle Burton

"BYU offers an incredible and completely diversified array of experience."

David Ries

"It's exciting to look forward to the future and new horizons, but it's nice to look back at the end of our years here at BYU and find we have a whole gallery of paintings illustrating memories and beautiful moments."

To the photo staff I give my thanks for the many hours of work taking pictures, working together with the rest of the staff and the endless hours in the darkroom which resulted in—well put it this way, most of us at times, forgot what sleep was all about. I also thank the staff, our editor Lydia, Assoc. Ed. Ranae and the contributing photographers. My special thanks goes to Ravell who kept things going when I was sick. To both staffs, you're great.

This year has been a very rewarding experience.

The staff of the Banyan has taught me many things about myself and I know they have enriched my life's experience. The men and women are collectively referred to as the staff, but they are really a group of talented, artistic, creative, hard-working, devoted and unique individuals, who have unselfishly given their time to this university to produce the most outstanding Banyan we've seen. They have certainly accomplished their lofty goal. I congratulate them on a fine effort. Without them it could not be done.

I would especially like to thank Calvin Moss from BYU Press, whose professional calm and understanding is the only thing that got us through the year.

Most of all, my heart-felt gratitude is given to Ranae Cahoon, Associate Editor, organizer, friend, confidant, and general all-around wonder woman. I hope she is lucky enough to find someone like herself to help guide next year's book.

Good Luck Nae—

Ly

P.S. It might be wise to suggest the university install fold-out cots in the Banyan office walls!

Our advisor, Dr. Merwin G. Fairbanks, who stuck by us until the very, very . . . end.

The designer of this year's Banyan cover is Mark Stephens, a senior majoring in Graphic Design.
